

1975 2002

Partners for Livable Communities

Sales Catalogue 1975-2002

Partners for Livable Communities

1429 21st Street, NW
Washington, DC 20036
tel 202 887 5990
fax 202 466 4845

Using the Directory

The Sales Catalogue lists over 350 publications, reports, articles and videos that Partners has produced over the last 25 years on livability and quality of life issues. The resources contained in this catalogue provide practical and inspiring information for civic leaders on how to discover and use civic assets for the betterment of the community. Learn from what others have done in the United States and abroad and adapt ideas to your community. Unless otherwise noted, all publications have been published by Partners for Livable Communities in Washington, D.C.

Publications are listed under the following categories:

Amenity Resources/Quality of Life features civic amenities as economic and social incentives for community improvement

Tourism: Heritage, Discovery and Ecotourism highlights how to put heritage tourism, cultural tourism and discovery tourism to work for your community.

Culture Builds Communities focuses on the use of the arts and cultural resources for social and economic development.

Community Development and Design includes resources on design, planning and strategizing for downtowns, neighborhoods and regions.

New Civics reflects the role that Partners has played in promoting public/private partnerships for community improvement. The category includes four sections: Leadership for Change, Regional Strategies, Visioning and Local Participation and Benchmarks and Indices.

Shared Heritage of the Americas highlights the environment, heritage and cultural resources in the Americas, and ways to enhance and preserve them.

Partners Resources includes generic directories, reports and internal assessments.

For more information on ordering publications, phone Partners at 202/887-5990.

Partners for Livable Communities is a nonprofit leadership organization working to improve the livability of communities by promoting quality of life, economic development and social equity. Since its founding in 1977, Partners has helped communities set a common vision for the future, discover and use new resources for community and economic development and build public/private coalitions to further their goals. More than 1,200 individuals and groups from local, state, national, international, public, private and media organizations make up Partners' resource network and share innovative ideas on livability and community improvement.

Table of Contents

Section One.
Amenity Resources/Quality of Life	4
Section Two.
Tourism: Heritage, Discovery, & Ecotourism	13
Section Three.
Culture Builds Communities	16
Section Four.
Community Development and Design	24
Section Five.
New Civics: Leadership for Change	30
Section Six.
New Civics: Regional Strategies	34
Section Seven.
New Civics: Visioning and Local Participation	36
Section Eight.
New Civics: Benchmarks and Indices	38
Section Nine.
Shared Heritage of the Americas-1992 Campaign	40
Section Ten.
Partners Resources	41
Order Form	44

White Oak Findings: Developing a Public Policy Framework

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 18 pages.
A report from the Creative City Conference identifying the role of a social agenda in the creative city framework. Hosted by the Gillman Foundation at its White Oak Conference Center, participants in the Partners' Creative City Program discussed the hypothesis of Richard Florida, economist and public policy thinker, that the "creative class" is the emerging group that will power America's economy. The Creative City participants added a social equity theme to unify rather than divide our cities for economic opportunity.

Order Code: 937 $5.00

Creative City: Year One

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 142 pages.

A report on the first year's activities of Partners' three-year Creative City Initiative that involves the participation of 16 cities, states and counties. The report summarizes the Creative City research and public policy agenda – from amenities to necessities and includes profiles on the participating communities. "The Creative City: Power for the New Economy" chapter discusses the characteristics of the new economy, the challenges for cities to meet and the initiatives to become a competitive city in the new economy.

Order Code: 938 $30.00

Creativity in the Evolving Workforce

Beth Belk, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 17 pages

A Creative City position paper exploring the evolving workplace and workforce and special ways to gain loyalty, efficiency and productivity through a series of amenity and quality of life strategies.

Order Code: 941 $5.00

Background paper prepared for the Creative City Working Group on the Benefits of Amenity - "Invest in These and You Get This"

Penelope Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 22 Pages.

A background paper defining the amenity categories of public sector design, private sector design, cultural planning, animation, places as arts, celebrating the city, parks and recreation, and the benefits of area cultural, marketing, and PR strategies, jobs, human resource development, and regional cooperation,

Order Code: 843 $7.50

Creative City: Power for the New Economy Resource Paper

Leo Penne, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 26 Pages.

This is a position paper for the public policy research on the new three year Creative City initiative.

Order Code: 847 $7.50

Amenities and Community Futures

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners, 2001. 15 pages.

A position paper on Partners' Creative City program weaving together the roots of Economics of Amenity, our current agenda under creativity, and the role of putting quality of life to work for economic and social and regional development and exploration of a new set of amenity issues as a resource for social and human development.

Order Code: 925 $5.00

Federal Spaces Community Places

Washington, DC: Partners, 2001. Insert in Governing Magazine. 6 pages.

Insert in Governing magazine prepared by the General Services Administration (GSA) with assistance from Partners for Livable Communities. This was published as part of a partnership between Partners for Livable Communities and GSA's Center for Urban Development, on how federal buildings can contribute to the livability and quality of core central cities in America.

Order Code: 2 $5.00

Speech by Paul Goldberger at Partners' 25th Anniversary Celebration

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 7 pages

An excellent reflection on the meaning of technology, design and community delivered as a keynote address by Paul Goldberger, staff writer of the New Yorker Magazine, at Partners 25th Anniversary Celebration at the Kennedy Center on September 26, 2000.

Order Code: 939 $3.00

Arts in a Living Downtown: Best Practices

Anne Corbett, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 65 pages.

Workbook prepared for use by the Federal City Council and the DC Arts Downtown Committee in 1997-98 to facilitate a set of working groups to design a strategy for culture and arts as part of the revised downtown Washington DC (off the Mall). This report looks at examples around the country of how culture has been put to work in programming, in facilities, and in implementation (i.e. financial and management strategies to insure that culture is part of the vitality of downtown business development).

Order Code: 3 $15.00

Main Street News, Putting the Arts to Work for Downtown

Anne Corbett, Washington, DC: Partners, 1998. 6 pages.

A monthly periodical produced by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. A prospectus of Partners' work on putting culture to work as a resource for economic development in the downtowns by Partners' former program officer on Culture Builds Communities.

Order Code: 4 $5.00

Amenities and Your Community Futures

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners, 1997. 20 pages.

Paper by Partners' president presents Partners' view that amenities can be profitable and socially relevant as well as pleasing. Includes a description of Partners' problem-solving agenda and links amenities and quality of life to human development as well as economic development.

Order Code: 309 $5.00

Report on Parks and Recreation Departments

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities for the Community Design Center of Pittsburgh, 1997. 35 pages.

This report reviews parks and recreation departments and how they create long-term maintenance funding, stability, and allocation of resources between existing parks and creating new parks. This report looks at Austin, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Portland, Seattle, and, in addendums, looks at Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, and Louisville.

Order Code: 6 $15.00

Livable City Revisited: Is There Anything Really New about New Urbanism? Conference Program

Washington, DC: Partners, 1997. 8 pages.

A conference report highlighting a lively forum presided over by Bill Fulton, featuring Gianni Longo, Ron Fleming, Fred Kent, and Huey Johnson, addressing the following question: Is there anything new about new urbanism?

Order Code: 5 $3.00

Research Report for Chattanooga on Research Finding on Outdoor Interactive Fountains

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 6 pages.

A report looking at outdoor fountains, their management, maintenance, insurance, and effects in Portland, OR, Aspen, CO, Atlanta, GA, and Dallas, TX.

Order Code: 8 $5.00

A Guide to Great American Public Places: A Journey of Discovery, Learning and Delight in the Public Realm

Gianni Longo, Washington, DC: The Urban Institute, 1996. 164 pages.

A guide to the country's most successful public places, A Guide to Great American Public Places features 60 public places ranging from the Golden Gate National Recreation Area in San Francisco to Xenia Avenue in Yellow Springs, Ohio. Text, photos and captions tell what to look for in each of the locations and help us understand why these public places still inspire us, what qualities make them compelling and what draws people to them.

Order Code: 7 $25.00

Rebuilding American Communities: Reinvestment by Design - A Collection of Best Practices

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 85 pages.

Stresses the importance of design and its effect on the quality of our built environment through its profile of best practices, which focuses on the innovative utilization of quality design.

"Rebuilding American Communities" groups best practices in five major sections focusing on government foresight in quality design, quality design as a solution to local problems, quality design in amenities, quality design in downtown, and unique partnerships for quality design. A valuable resource that provides vision for county, city, state, and regional planners who are reevaluating the qualities of their communities.

Order Code: 9 $15.00

Reassessing How We Invest in our Cities

Robert McNulty and Daniel McCahan, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1993. 32 Pages.

A position paper on quality of life as an urban investment written by McNulty and McCahan at the request of Henry Cisneros for his book Interwoven Destinies.

Order Code: 841 $40.00

Livability

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1993. 15 Pages.

A position paper on Partners' definition of livability and an agenda for creating & putting communities forward by using their quality of life assets and leadership and key institutions to advance change.

Order Code: 842 $3.00

Value of the Arts

Elizabeth Murfee, Washington, DC: President's Committee on the Arts and Humanities, 1993. 34 pages.

A well-written booklet stating the value of arts to communities in philosophical as well as economic terms. The author divides the content into arts and education, arts and civic life, arts in international affairs, arts in the economy, and arts in themselves. The comprehensive bibliography alone makes this booklet worthwhile.

Order Code: 10 $10.00

Arts & The Economy

Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1992. 8 pages.

An informational brochure on NEA funding programs that includes a special report on the arts and the economy. The source of the case studies featured in the report is a study conducted by Partners in April 1992 entitled "Culture and Communities: The Arts in the Life of American Cities." The case studies illustrate the important economic impact of the arts in Greenville, MS; Rock Island, IL; San Antonio, TX; Pittsburgh, PA; Oklahoma City, OK; Birmingham, AL; Los Angeles, CA; Montgomery, AL; Dallas, TX; Memphis, TN.; Ashland, OR; and San Diego, CA.

Order Code: 12 $5.00

Culture and Communities:

The Arts in the Life of American Cities

Robert H. McNulty, Patricia Jones, and Laura Green, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1992. 81 pages.

This report provides an in-depth analysis of how arts institutions strengthen downtown revitalization, economic development, urban planning and quality design, business retention and relocation, tourism, image, and multicultural awareness. Twenty-one case studies show the many ways the arts can address our cities' most pressing concerns.

Order Code: 11 $15.00

Park and Recreation Leadership Forum

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 24 pages.

A report on a forum co-sponsored by Partners and the National Park and Recreation Association that identifies the strengths and weaknesses of creating a strategy to gain voter confidence in parks as a critical resource for American cities.

Order code: 940 $7.00

Economics of Amenity in the United States of America

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners, 1991 August. Insitut Fur Raumplanung, Universitat Dortmund. 57 pages.

A paper presented by Partners president Robert H. McNulty at an international cultural planning symposium at the University of Dortmund in Dortmund, Germany, summarizes the American experience in urban strategies and amenity investment.

Order Code: 325 $10.00

Kayaking

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 2 pages.

A worksheet developed on kayaking based upon its economic value to cities. It looks at recreation and competitive kayaking as an amenity development strategy. This was undertaken at the request of the Calgary Downtown Revitalization Zone.

Order Code: 13 $3.00

Art of City Design

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1990. 5 pages.

Describes design projects, all of them supported by the Design Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts, that have improved the quality of life in cities and towns.

Order Code: 14 $10.00

Minnesota State Capitol Mall Animation Study

Washington, DC: Partners, 1990. 142 pages.

What could your public center become if it reached out to the city? Commissioned by the State of Minnesota, this report examines whether the grounds around the state capitol could become that second living room for all Minnesotans and a key attraction and resource in St. Paul. The report examines the ideas, themes, collaborations, designs, and strategies that could make these aspirations come true. The Peirce Report on St. Paul of November 1990 came to the same conclusion as this report: that the capitol District could become the cultural center of the Midwest. A key demonstration project for every state capitol district, county courthouse, or city hall precinct.

Order Code: 66 $20.00

Design America

Dennis Drabelle, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1990. With support from the NEA. Illustrations. 64 pages.

One in a series of four publications that attempts to define the term design by showing how it works. Design America reviews design projects funded by state arts agencies.

Order Code: 16 $10.00

Art of Landscape Architecture

Dennis Drabelle, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1990. Design Arts Program of the NEA. 54 pages.

This publication highlights eight landscape architecture-related projects funded by the Design Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts. Projects include design for an ecosystem on Virginia's eastern shore, transformation of a New Jersey landfill into a work of art, and restoration of a Frederick Law Olmsted urban park.

Order Code: 15 $10.00

Amenities: An Enticement to Tenant Action and Public Housing

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners For Livable Communities, 1990. 3 pages.

A report prepared for the publication Housing: Symbol, Structure, and Site, edited by Lisa Taylor of the Cooper Union Museum/the Smithsonian and published by Rizzoli.

Order Code: 840 $3.00

Park and Recreation Leadership Forum

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 24 pages.

A report on a forum co-sponsored by Partners and the National Park and Recreation Association that identifies the strengths and weaknesses of creating a strategy to gain voter confidence in parks as a critical resource for American cities.

Order code: 940 $7.00

From Commas to Cathedrals: Design At Work

Phyllis Lehman McIntosh, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1988. 66 pages.

A publication undertaken by Partners for the Design Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts, demonstrating the use of design as a community resource for problem solving.

Order Code: 878 $10.00

Historic Shipwrecks: Issues in Management

Washington, DC: National Trust for Historic Preservation and Partners for Livable Communities, 1988. 175 pages.

This book provides a framework for the management of underwater cultural resources and offers ideas for both creative programs and sources of support. Included are chapters on "Development of a State Management Program" and "Financing Shipwreck Archaeology," as well as an overview of existing state legislation and programs, and important sections on finance and how these cultural resources can be used for tourism and educational interest. In limited supply.

Order Code: 17 $30.00

Selected Readings on Public Art

Washington, DC: Partners, 1987 12, 1987. 40 pages.

This resource guide on Public Art was used as a review of strategies to assist Glendale, CA.

Order Code: 20 $5.00

Partners and Public Art

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1987. 32 pages.

An anthology of the best articles in PLACE magazine on the changing roles of public art and placemaking. Among the articles examining concepts and perspectives on public art in American communities: "Successful Public Art: Is It Possible?," "How Art Becomes Public" and "Resolving the Polarities in Public Art."

Order Code: 21 $5.00

Partners and Underwater Archaeology

Washington, DC.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1987. 22 pages.

An anthology of PLACE magazine articles exploring the salvaging, management, and financial benefits of underwater resources. Includes case studies.

Order Code: 18 $5.00

Public Art

Joyce Pomeroy Schwartz, Joseph A. Wilkes, Ed., New York: 1987. 27 pages.

A reprint of an encyclopedia article covers art in public places from classical antiquity to present day. Topics covered include government public arts programs, percent-for-art legislation, art in transportation facilities, individuals and corporations as art patrons, and the role of art in urban planning.

Order Code: 49 $5.00

Arts Space and Economic Development Experience in Six Cities

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1986. 230 pages.

A report submitted to the Office of Business and Economic Development of the District of Columbia, reviewing arts districts and major mixed-use development in six US cities. The case studies document the public-private partnership arrangements for arts spaces in Dallas, San Diego, San Francisco, Winston-Salem, Minneapolis-St. Paul, and Cleveland.

Order Code: 22 $30.00

Insights on Sites: Perspectives on Art in Public Places

Stacy Paleologos Harris, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities for the Visual Arts Program of the NEA, 1985. 79 pages.

Examines the ways in which artists, funding agencies, and communities are expanding the traditional concept of public spaces. Five professionals from a range of arts-related fields offer perspectives on recent public art projects that are integrated with their surroundings. Still the most far-reaching idea collection on the role of public art in communities.

Order Code: 28 $20.00

Economics of Amenity:Community Futures and Quality of Life

Robert H. McNulty, R. Leo Penne and Dorothy R Jacobson, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. 156 pages.

Drawing upon the experiences of cities throughout North America, this book, the bible of "Can you take quality of life to the bank?" describes how communities are using amenities—downtowns, performing arts, history, culture and civic pride—to stimulate business investments, develop tourism, and increase and retain economic growth.

Order Code: 23 $25.00

Space and Nature: Practical Aesthetics

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. Livability Digest. 100 pages.

The articles in this issue of Livability Digest are arranged by resource type: parks and zoos, woodlands and natural areas, water resources, and farms and gardens and also run in a continuum from the city core to the urban fringe. Each section includes policy background, but the emphasis lies with those elusive and, one hopes, transferable ingredients of success so helpful to the practitioner. Case reviews help to make the point.

Order Code: 26 $10.00

Poland's Commitment to Its Past:A Report on Two Study Tours; An Issue Paper

Krystyna Puc, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. 47 pages.

This publication describes the preservation of cultural property in Poland, and emphasizes those aspects of architecture, art, and town conservation that might prove useful in other contexts.

The work is based on seminars and study tours coordinated by Robert H. McNulty and Partners; among the experts involved were Kevin Lynch and Grady Clay.

Order Code: 29 $10.00

Urban Amenities:Linking Livability and Economic Development

R. Leo Penne, Washington, DC: Partners, 1985. Economic Development Commentary, Volume 9, Number 2. 6 pages.

Reprint of article from Summer 1985 issue of Economic Development Commentary makes the case for amenities and quality of life issues as a part of economic development strategies.

Order Code: 24 $5.00

Neighborhood Open Space Amenity Strategies

Jonathan Propp, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. With support from the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation. 67 pages.

Guide to using open space strategies as a step toward neighborhood revitalization, based on six case studies from across the country. Emphasis is on image, parks, gardens, playgrounds, murals, and neighborhood festivals. A list of resources and a bibliography are included. In limited supply. An excellent publication on how amenity strategies can tie the neighborhood together for continued activism.

Order Code: 27 $20.00

City Assets Program Resource and Publication Roster, 1985

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. 17 pages.

Directory of resources and publications produced for the 1985 City Assets Conference in Indianapolis, Indiana. Information is organized by themes: cultural planning, design and value, natural and scenic resources, open space management and animation, new civics, tourism and conservation.

Order Code: 25 $5.00

Profitability and Design Management

Thomas Walton, ed., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1984. 50 pages.

This issue of Livability Digest concentrates on the economic significance of quality design. It also focuses on policy and design in the public sector, the investor/developer perspective, and corporate design and workplace management. A compilation of excellent arguments on why design can be taken to the bank as a resource for community and economic development.

Order Code: 31 $10.00

Public Sector Designs

Clint Page and Penelope Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1984. 62 pages.

An overview of the policies and management strategies that enable local and state governments to commission and achieve well designed public buildings, streetscapes, parks, and graphics.

Order Code: 30 $15.00

City As A Stage

Kevin Green, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 162 pages.

This book, which emanated from the Arts Edge Conference in Pittsburgh, provides an overview of strategies for the arts in urban economics. As a cultural planning reader, it explores the role of the arts and cultural planning in urban economic development and focuses on financing, planning, design, use, management, and promotion.

Order Code: 33 $35.00

Way to Go: The Benefits of Quality Design in Transportation

Carole Rifkind and the US. Department of Transportation, Washington, DC: Partners Livable Communities for the Design Arts Program of the NEA, 1983. 172 pages.

This book shows how elements of good design contribute to an atmosphere in which people are willing to work, produce, buy, and invest. The study also shows how aesthetic benefits provided by quality materials, design, and maintenance can translate directly into increased patronage and its rewards. Case studies and arguments show how to make design quality a factor in transportation systems. Shows how to talk to highway and transportation officials.

Order Code: 34 $20.00

Design Considerations:

Barrier-Free Access Design Competitions

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 22 pages.

Rendering cultural facilities accessible to people who are physically handicapped calls for more than an occasional wheelchair ramp. This report promotes accessibility with dignity for those with various kinds of disabilities. A useful report for promoting equity of access in every community.

Order Code: 32 $5.00

Negotiating for Amenities -

Zoning and Management Tools that Build Livable Cities

Part I: An Overview

Clint Page and Penelope Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. 80 pages.

Comprehensive summary shows how regulatory and management tools are being used to encourage, preserve and maintain amenities in downtown areas. Includes chapters on downtown retail development, open spaces and environmental improvements, preserving significant buildings, housing, and maintenance and management. If you want to be a player in the downtown development game and want to know what to ask for as part of the bargaining process, this is your guide.

Order Code: 38 $20.00

Urban Amenities and Economic Development

A. Tappan Wilder, ed., Washington, DC: Partners, 1982. Livability Digest. Vol.2, No.1. 80 pages.

This issue of Livability Digest focuses on the use of amenities to enhance livability and shows that using amenities as job producers and magnet for business can result in general urban stability.

Order Code: 35 $10.00

Issues in Supporting the Arts

Caroline Violette and Rachelle Taqqu, eds., New York: Cornell University, Graduate School of Business and Public Administration, 1982. 108 pages.

An anthology measuring the economic impact of the arts based on a conference presented by Cornell University.

Order Code: 36 $10.00

Tools for Leadership: Building Cultural Partnerships

Partners, editorial consultant, Ithaca, NY: Cornell University and Bell Systems, 1982. 10 pages.

Intended as a primer for those who want to support the arts, have the resources to do so, but do not know how to best serve the community and its needs, this publication focuses on partnerships between businesses, government, and the arts. A prototype of a corporate campaign by the Bell System to highlight culture as important to corporate and economic priorities.

Order Code: 37 $10.00

Negotiating for Amenities -

Zoning and Management Tools that Build Livable Cities

Part II: Models and Resources

Clint Page and Penelope Cuff Foundation and Skidmore Owings and Merrill, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. 165 pages.

Comprehensive summary of regulatory and management tools being used to encourage, preserve and maintain amenities in downtown areas.

Order Code: 39 $20.00

Art in Public Places

John Beardsley, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. Visual Arts Program of the NEA. 152 pages.

A survey of community-sponsored public art profiling projects partially funded over a fifteen-year period by the Visual Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts. Extensively illustrated. A major guide to public art in America.

Order Code: 40 $20.00

Design Arts 2: Places and Spaces for the Arts

Carol Uhl-Nordlinger, ed., New York: Municipal Arts Society, 1981. 112 pages.

Articles on arts spaces and places including such topics as artists housing, cultural facilities, and private monies.

Order Code: 42 $20.00

Issues in Urban Archaeology

Robert H. McNulty and Carol Snook Weare, eds., Washington, DC: Partners with support from the JS. Kaplan Fund, 1981.

Livability Digest, Vol.2, No.3. 71 pages.

This publication presents a variety of perspectives on some of the concerns and conflicts in urban archaeology. The collection of writings for community decision-makers encourages them to consider urban archaeology as a resource rather than an obstacle.

Archaeology allows a fascinating chance for both participation and excitement. Learn to use the archaeology card in your community.

Order Code: 43 $10.00

City and the Arts

Andy Leon Harney, Washington, DC: Partners. With support from the Design Arts Program of the NEA, 1981. 48 pages.

Handbook of grants programs offered by the National Endowment for the Arts highlights the different grant categories for which city and county government agencies are eligible to apply. The book stresses leaders' ability to promote arts activities and awareness of arts and design.

Order Code: 44 $10.00

Found Spaces: New Uses for Forgotten Places

Andy Leon Harvey, Washington, DC: Partners, 1981. 30 pages.

A manuscript prepared for Partners under a cooperative agreement with the National Endowment of the Arts. Examines ideas for transforming city blocks and the uses for unimproved lands.

Order Code: 45 $10.00

Arts Edge

Educational Facilities Laboratories and Community Design Exchange, 1981. Sponsored by the NEA: Design Arts Program. 45 pages.

Resource guide contains articles on the arts, a bibliography organized around various arts themes, and a roster of organizations that provide information and services.

Order Code: 41 $10.00

Natural and Scenic Resources

William Burch, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1980. 28 pages.

Explains the value of and provides points of discussion on the need to conserve natural and scenic resources. Over the past two decades studies have consistently reported that the family is the primary social unit in parks, which appear to be one of the few settings left in urban-industrial societies where teen and pre-teen children consistently interact with their parents. This publication expands on these and other ideas on how parks affect society. A must read for anyone interested in the value of parks and how they relate to society.

Order Code: 50 $10.00

National and Scenic Resources

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1980. 20 pages.

Position paper for Partners' Economics of Amenity program.
Order Code: 46 $5.00

Design Competition Manual

Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1980. 25 pages.

This is an excellent manual on how to use a design competition for reaching design goals. It is an eight step process with appendices of how to put design competition to work to help in problem solving.
Order Code: 48 $10.00

Amenities and Economic Development: A Conceptual Framework

Roger J Vaughan, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1980. 13 pages.

Discusses in depth the complex relationships between amenities and economic development. The structure laid out in this policy report enables us to build our understanding of the role of the arts and recreation in the local economy in an organized and constructive way.
Order Code: 47 $5.00

Design Guidelines: An Annotated Bibliography

Merrill Ware Carrigton, Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1977. 10 pages.

This publication, initially produced during the development of Partners when the National Endowment for the Arts served as secretariat, examines some 50 design guidelines on issues of restoration - both residential and commercial, new construction, funding, architectural styles, and ordinances. In limited supply; orders may be filled with photocopies.
Order Code: 51 $10.00

Federal Architecture: Adaptive Use Facilities

Merrill Ware, Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1975. 60 pages.

Report of a working group of the Federal Architecture Project of the National Endowment for the Arts.
Order Code: 52 $15.00

Federal Architecture: A Framework for Debate

Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1974. 53 pages.

This interim report to the National Endowment for the Arts' Federal Architecture Project is a landmark publication. The presidentially mandated study of federal design quality led to a still on-going relationship between the General Services Administration and the Endowment's Design Program.
Order Code: 53 $15.00

Federal Architecture: Multiple Use Facilities

Gordon Binder, Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1974. 65 pages.

Staff report of a working group of the Federal Architecture Project of the National Endowment for the Arts.
Order Code: 54 $15.00

Minneapolis Beautiful Initiative

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 48 pages.

This is a draft resource book prepared in consultancy with Partners for Livable Communities through the Minneapolis Planning Department and its committee on the urban environment. Partners' served as a consultant to Damon Farber Associates in developing this guide book for citizen action and municipal beautification strategies in Minneapolis.
Order Code: 56 $10.00

Memphis Arts: Places as Art Charrette Summary Report

Memphis Arts Council, Washington, DC: Partners, 1998. 40 pages.

This report of a two-day charrette sponsored by Partners for Livable Communities in Memphis, on urban art, summarizes the findings and recommendations of a distinguished panel of outsiders including representatives from Project for Public Spaces, Townscape Institute, and public art officers from Houston, TX and Portland, OR, with its moderator and chair, Robert H. McNulty. In addition, a workbook, Urban Arts (approx. 100 pages), was prepared for the participants to provide background material and information on Memphis and public art/urban art issues underway in that community.
Order Code: 57 $7.00

Arts in the Living Downtown: The Next Step, Washington, DC

Anne Corbett and Penny Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 30 pages.

Prepared by Partners for use by a set of taskforces convened through the Federal City Council, and funded through the Meyer and Cafritz Foundations to explore, under the support and chair of First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton, the relationship of arts and cultural development strategies to the downtown of Washington, DC in conjunction with the New Business Improvement District.
Order Code: 58 $15.00

18th & Vine Charrette

Nicolas Pierpan, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 80 pages.

Report of a two-day charrette, held in Kansas City, Mo., in September 1996, outlines a strategy for developing a major African-American heritage site that would include museums dealing with Negro Leagues baseball and jazz. These attractions could spur tourism and economic development in this part of Kansas City.
Order Code: 59 $25.00

Frey Foundation, Public Art/Placemaking Project

Washington, DC: Partners, 1995. 12 pages.

A report to the Frey Foundation that resulted from Partners being retained by the Frey Foundation to develop a public art placemaking strategy in Grand Rapids. Partners put together a placemaking team, did a charrette and a community consultation strategy, and advised the Frey Foundation on the process to move forward. The Frey Board approved a recommendation and retained Maya Lin to undertake her first major piece of public placemaking strategy in an American community.
Order Code: 60 $10.00

Frey Foundation Public Art Placemaking Project Final Report

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 12 pages.

Summary of recommendations for a major piece of art to be commissioned for downtown Grand Rapids, Michigan, covers not only the nature of the art but the process for deciding on it. The commission was eventually awarded to Maya Lin, designer of the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, DC, through a process of community involvement developed by Partners.
Order Code: 61 $5.00

Community Design: Six Case Studies of Revitalization

Ann Mackin, Raleigh, North Carolina: North Carolina Arts Council, 1991. 10 pages.

Report on North Carolina's role in a tri-state program (North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee) dealing with small-town community revitalization and the role of design and planning as a catalyst for expanding Main Street initiatives into broader community futures activity. Partners was a consultant to the North Carolina Arts Council, which undertook this cooperative agenda. This is an excellent summary of how amenity strategies and cultural themes can be used to stimulate small to medium-sized community economic development and leadership.
Order Code: 62 $15.00

Minnesota's State Capitol Mall: Minnesota's Front Yard

Washington, DC: Partners, 1990. 20 pages.

Report prepared for the Minnesota Capitol Area Architectural and Planning Board explores the potential of the Minnesota State Capitol Mall as a vital community space. This excellent summary of a major Partners study focused on recommendations on how thoughtful design can create a lively public space. It also includes the experiences of seven other state capitol projects.
Order Code: 64 $10.00

Cultural Plan: City of Elkhart, Indiana

Elkhart, IN: City of Elkhart, Planning and Development, 1990. 63 pages.

Draft report on a cultural plan for Elkhart, IN, that grew out of a need for a more focused approach to cultural development. Partners worked with civic leaders to develop a long-term plan of action for the growth of cultural and humanities efforts and suggested the formation of a local arts agency and the development of a broad-based cultural plan.
Order Code: 63 $10.00

Places as Art Charrette in Glendale, California

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1987. 60 pages.

Final report on a 1987 charrette describes a public art strategy for Glendale, California.
Order Code: 67 $15.00

Illinois Arts Council: Arts Build Illinois, Building By Design

Washington, DC: Partners, 1986. 30 pages.

Tools prepared under consultancy by Partners for Livable Communities to the Illinois Arts Council so that Cultural facility and cultural development grants could be part of Governor Thompson's Building Illinois infrastructure and capital improvements program. This is a set of guidelines prepared by Partners for use by the Illinois Arts Council that is a model for any arts council wishing to create an investment agenda of the cultural community.
Order Code: 68 $10.00

Animation of the City, Washington, DC, Downtown Study

Washington, DC: Partners with support from the Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation, 1986. 191 pages.

Learn how to create a downtown agenda for culture and tourism. From this two-part special report, a resource for cities wishing to explore animation as a tool for economic development and for increasing energy in downtown areas. Part one identifies animating factors (such as special events, activities, and artistic and cultural resources) that help strengthen a downtown image. Part two focuses on case studies, highlighting successful animation strategies that can bring dollars and people downtown. Almost two hundred pages of information, including a gazetteer of examples drawn from around America.

Order Code: 69 $25.00

Animation of the City

Penelope Cuff and Barbara H. Keiser, Washington, DC: Partners, 1986. 191 pages.

This report is a special events and cultural activities audit of downtown Washington, D.C.- the first step in the development of an animation strategy for that section of town. This data forms the basis for recommendations to improve the programming and marketing of events in downtown Washington.

Order Code: 881 $25.00

Role of the Arts in State and Local Economic Development

R. Leo Penne and James L. Shanahan, Washington, DC: Partners, 1985. 35 pages.

This report by Partners' former senior associate, Leo Penne, and the distinguished James Shanahan, who headed an urban cultural group within the University of Akron lays out the framework of the economic advantage of cultural development/cultural planning.

Order Code: 70 $10.00

Hartford Connecticut Cultural Planning CharretteExecutive Summary

Dorothy R. Jacobson, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1984. 35 pages.

Summary of final report from a three and a half-day cultural planning charrette sponsored by Greater Hartford Arts Council, Hartford Downtown Council, and National Endowment for the Arts, to recommend ways to link urban design, tourism, cultural development, and economic development objectives for Hartford.

Order Code: 71 $10.00

Cultural Planning—Catalysts for a Greater Cleveland

Washington, DC: Partners, 1984. 20 pages.

A day-long forum as part of a cultural process in Cleveland undertaken with Partners, and introduced and hosted by Mayor George Voinovich. It includes presentations by Edmund Bacon, moderator, and Robert H. McNulty, as part of a cultural program sponsored by the Ohio Humanities Council, the Ohio Arts Council, and the Cleveland Foundation. The forum explored the relationship between culture and strategic planning for Cleveland's future. It involved some 35 different civic leaders.

Order Code: 73 $10.00

Hanks Institute Feasibility Study

Paul A. Hummer, Cultural Development Services, Indianapolis, IN; Dori Jacobson and Robert H. McNulty, Partners, Washington, DC: Partners, 1983. 80 pages.

Feasibility study on the establishment of a Nancy Hanks Institute to assume the cultural programming functions for the Nancy Hanks Center of the Old Post Office on Pennsylvania Avenue, in Washington, DC The study examined possible programming activities, performance and exhibition space and equipment, organizational structure, budget and a schedule of implementing recommendations.

Order Code: 77 $15.00

Baltimore Brewery Charrette

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 10 pages.

A report on a charrette conducted by Partners and the City of Baltimore to elicit design and public programming ideas for an 18th century brewery site on the edge of downtown Baltimore. Outside consultants met with city representatives on appropriate options for creating a usable public space to educate residents and visitors about the history and industrial development of the city. Report summarizes the recommendations of the team of consultants, including specific conservation design plans, ideas for interpretative programming, schemes for integrating the historic brewery with the interpretive and marketing plans for the surrounding historic sites along the Falls Walk, and action plans for implementation.

Order Code: 75 $5.00

Art Means Business Conference, Hunter Museum of Arts, Sponsored by the Allied Arts of Greater Chattanooga and Partners for Livable Places, October 26, 1983.

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 20 pages.

This file includes a set of background papers, a Live City is a Live Downtown; Cultural Assets Are Activities Anchors; Arts Means Business; Tourism Outreach Programs That Work; Enterprise and Nonprofit Institutions a New Source for Dollars. It includes the bios of conference speakers, the conference program, and clips from the conference. It was a highly successful conference, part of Partners jump start of the Quality of Life Agenda in Chattanooga.

Order Code: 74 $10.00

Competitive Edge Conference, Chattanooga, 1983

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 50 pages.

Collection of background papers and speaking materials for quality of life conference held in Chattanooga, Tennessee, in May 1983. Materials include speaker biographies and background material on waterfront development, balance benefits of recreation and tourism, rebuilding downtown commercial centers, nature in the city, partnerships, aesthetic quality or visual pollution, and arts in Chattanooga. Still useful as an aid to designing a conference.

Order Code: 76 $10.00

Local Projects

An Enhancement Strategy for New York's Fashion District

Carole Rifkind, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. 24 pages.

Details research to develop a set of options for short-term and longer-term projects to enhance the physical environment of New York City's fashion industry neighborhood. Includes extensive recommendations based on the research findings and analyses. A great resource detailing the potential revitalization of New York's Fashion District.

Order Code: 78 $15.00

Final Report:

New Idea Corp, Broad Street Corridor, Richmond, Virginia

Dorothy R. Jacobson, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. 32 pages.

A report on a two-day project Partners conducted in Richmond that brought together a team of local leaders and national experts to identify small-scale, doable projects to improve Broad Street's appearance and attract new business to this major thoroughfare of the city. A good case study of how convening local leaders to identify small-scale development projects can also lead to consideration of a broader, more comprehensive development agenda.

Order Code: 79 $10.00

Media/Video

City Assets

Partners, Washington, DC: Partners, 1985. 15 minutes.

Video documents case studies of 13 premiere cities involved in Partners five-year national demonstration program, the Economics of Amenity, a highly successful program that revealed the role quality of life played in the return and rebirth of the livable communities in America.

Order Code: 82 $25.00

Art in Public Places. Slide Set

Washington, DC: Partners, 53 slides.

A collection of 53 slides of community sponsored public art from the above book. Important for lecture and documentation.

Order Code: 81 $20.00

Art on File

Washington, DC: Partners, 100 slides.

An index of slide collections on contemporary public art, architecture and design. Partially funded by the Design Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts.

Order Code: 80 $15.00

Cultural Heritage Tourism:

A Vehicle for Dynamic Social and Economic Change

Sue Coppa, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 27 pages.

Written by Sue Coppa, senior associate of Partners for Livable Communities, weaving together various aspects of heritage tourism, community development, and a new field "heritage development" as advanced by Partners.

Order Code: 850 $7.00

African American Heritage Tourism and Community Development: A report to the United States Economic Development Administration based upon the proceedings of the Kansas City Forum, October 25-26, 1999.

Written by Don Garfield and edited and prepared by Angela Blocker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 26 pages.

This report was prepared by Partners' in coordination with the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation summarizing successful heritage tourism projects taking place in primarily African American communities. The report lists the benefits and challenges associated with current heritage tourism projects in Kansas City, MO, Washington, DC and others.

Order Code: 83 $15.00

African-American Museum of Delaware, Wilmington, Delaware.

Angela Blocker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 125 pages.

The culmination of a six-month project by Partners for the Board of the African American Museum to explore the concept of developing a regional museum on African-American Heritage as a new asset and resource for all segments of the community in Wilmington, Delaware.

Order Code: 95 $30.00

Thoughts Concerning the Creation of a Local Tourism Development Plan

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 13 pages.

A position paper by Robert McNulty exploring the framework for looking at tourism as a community development plan. Issues discussed include: Civic Tourism; Black Heritage and Culture as Economic Incentives for Tourism; Celebrate the City; Image and Marketing; and Tourism in Jazz Cities.

Order Code: 932 $3.00

Cultural Tourism in America

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 24 pages.

Paper explores concept of cultural tourism, proposing use of unique local assets to generate tourist activity, and creation of local tourism development plans. Broad themes for cultural tourism in the United States include African-American heritage and culture, celebration of cities, and jazz cities.

Order Code: 439 $3.00

Tourism and Cultural Conservation: Insuring Uniqueness of Place in the Developing World

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 24 pages.

Paper describes tourism management agendas for the future, using examples from the Caribbean to illustrate combining heritage preservation with economic growth and reorientation toward cultural tourism.

Order Code: 84 $10.00

Quality of Life Infrastructure for Economic Development: Tourism Begins at Home

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 35 pages.

A thought-provoking report that confronts the rise and fall of mass tourism and thoroughly explores the feasibility and necessity of combining conservation of heritage with economic growth. Based on a presentation at the "Tourism and Culture: Towards the 21st Century" Conference in Newcastle, England in 1996. A great resource for individuals in the tourism industry interested in increasing both the quality of life in their area and their overall tourist base.

Order Code: 85 $15.00

Environmental Tourism: Understanding Resource Conflicts, Bonaire, Netherlands Antilles

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 34 pages.

Workbook explores the many conflicts created by the growing number of tourists visiting the island of Bonaire. Tourism is a threat to the very environment that attracts visitors to the place. Governments and the tourism industry must find better ways to reduce or avoid the harmful effects to tourism without losing its benefits. To do so better linkages between tourism and natural/cultural policies must exist.

Order Code: 96 $15.00

Responsible Tourism Debate

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 4 pages.

Fourth Annual Travel Review Forum in which McNulty presented his definition of responsible tourism and the responsible tourist.

Order Code: 830 $3.00

Cultural Tourism and Sustainable Development

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners, 1993. World Travel and Tourism Review: Indicators, Trends, and Issues, Vol. 3. 7 pages.

Reprint of article on dangers and opportunities for modern tourism. The post-World War II rise of mass tourism brought the risks of exploitation. Tourism has served as the economic justification for heritage conservation. Partners has promoted economic progress that arises as a result of - not at the expense of - enhanced quality of life. Long-term economic development and cultural tourism go hand in hand. Properly managed tourism can continue to generate income for as long as people travel. A prerequisite of sustainable attractions is identification of cultural elements that can be developed for the enjoyment of visitors and the local community alike.

Order Code: 86 $5.00

Sorrento Peninsula: Preserving Its Past, Planning Its Future

Fred Bosselman, Ronald Fleming, Fred Lazarus IV, Gianni Longo, Robert McNulty, Charles Zucker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities and the Maryland Institute, 1992. 20 pages.

The Maryland Institute hired Partners to hold a brainstorming conference on the tourism futures of Italy's Sorrento Peninsula. This effort led to a plan specifying a vision for the region and spelling out short-term and long-term regional projects intended to affect individual political jurisdictions and communities.

Order Code: 455 $5.00

Transnational Corporation and Tourism Issues

Robert H. McNulty and Patricia Wafer, Washington, DC: Partners, 1990. 5 pages.

Article discusses how the transnational corporation ties into an unnecessary sameness of treatment of tourism destinations and resources. An important issue for Third World tourism development. Available in offset prints or photocopies.

Order Code: 87 $5.00

Brisbane: A Temporary Paradise?

A Report on the Visit to Brisbane by Mr. Robert H. McNulty

Robert H. McNulty and Debra Camden, Brisbane, Australia: 1990. 18 pages.

Report outlines strengths and potential for tourism development in Brisbane, a city in transition. Tells how long-term community improvement in one of the most naturally endowed regions of the world depends on capitalizing on successes of past and managing challenges of the future. A unique international study on how to manage a region's resources in a sustainable and attractive way.

Order Code: 97 $10.00

Island Legacy:

Protecting the Heritage of the Caribbean and the Bahamas

The Caribbean Tourist Association, Partners for Livable Communities, New York, NY: The New Yorker magazine, 1990 November 5. 28 Pages.

An article describing a marketing and attraction strategy for the Caribbean that emphasizes its heritage, culture, and natural resources as opposed to sand, sun, and water.

Order Code: 848 $10.00

Black Heritage Tourism: Education or Exploitation?

Elizabeth Smolcic and Carol Mansfield, eds., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1989. 45 pages.

Proceedings of the "Black Heritage Tourism: Education or Exploitation?" symposium, held in Boston in 1988. Co-sponsored by the African American Museums Association, the meeting provided an opportunity to examine strategies and to address concerns of the Black community regarding the presentation of Black heritage and its effect on their neighborhoods. The proceedings contain case studies as well as analysis of Black heritage tourism by members of the Black museum community, tourism professionals, and others involved with the field of Black heritage.

Order Code: 88 $15.00

Place Magazine Tunisia Granary of Rome

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1988.

Place, Vol. 8, No. 1, January-February.

Issue of PLACE magazine dealing with cultural tourism features article by Robert H. McNulty on Tunisia as an example of heritage and cultural tourism strategies that highlight history, archaeology, and architecture as a way to develop tourism.

Order Code: 98 $5.00

Undiscovered Gifts of the Caribbean

Patricia Wafer, ed., Washington, DC: Partners with the Montauk Foundation, 1987. 18 pages.

A superb "gifts" catalog of cultural heritage and preservation projects in the Caribbean that could use support. A model for other such catalogs.

Order Code: 99 $5.00

Cultural Tourism:

Wedding Conservation to Economic Development

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Place Magazine, Partners for Livable Communities, 1986 July. 17 Pages.

A position paper originally published in PLACE magazine looking at Partners' definition of cultural tourism as an applicable development resource in both developed and undeveloped countries across the world

Order Code: 851 $5.00

Tourism Task Force for Greater Cincinnati 1986 Report

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1986. Cincinnati Bell Telephone Company. 48 pages.

Findings of a task force on tourism in Cincinnati, for which Partners served as reviewer, critic, and consultant. An example of how to get business leadership to redefine tourism, marketing, and products in a major city.

Order Code: 100 $15.00

Chattanooga Venture

Chattanooga, TN: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. 12 pages.

Reprints of newsletters present the results of a January 1985 conference on tourism and development strategies held in Chattanooga, TN. Presentations by James Rouse and other distinguished commentators are included.

Order Code: 101 $10.00

Revitalizing Industrial Cities Through Cultural Tourism

International Journal of Environmental Studies, 1985. Vol. 25. 3 pages.

Reproduced text of a presentation by Robert H. McNulty, President of Partners, on cultural tourism revitalization strategies for industrial cities identifies cultural tourism as it relates to industrial revitalization strategies in the US and its implications for the UK. Excellent summary.

Order Code: 90 $3.00

Tourism Development and Cultural Conservation:

Ways to Coordinate Heritage with Economic Development

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1985. 14 pages.

A position paper for Partners for Livable Communities by Robert H. McNulty prepared in January 1985 defining Partners' definition of heritage and economic development & tourism

Order Code: 852 $5.00

Destination? Where? Putting Cities Without Surf, Slopes, and Slot Machines on the Map

Tina Resick, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1984. 28 pages.

Compilation of conference resource materials for a landmark forum in Memphis involving cultural heritage tourism strategies for cities without striking natural settings or legal gambling.

Order Code: 91 $10.00

Reflections on Cultural Tourism and Transportation

Carole Rifkind, Senior Associate, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 4 pages.

A position paper with reflections on the inner connection of tourism and transportation issues at the community level.

Order Code: 849 $3.00

Partners: Conservation and Heritage Tourism

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982-1987. 16 pages.

This anthology of PLACE magazine articles on ecoculture and heritage tourism concerns examines the inter-relationship of tourism, the conservation of cultural heritage, long-range development, and economics. Among the topics "Tourist Dollars and Caribbean Culture," "Cultural Tourism: Wedding Conservation to Economic Development," and "Sustainable Development in the Third World."

Order Code: 89 $5.00

Collaborative Caribbean Preservation Strategy

Jashina A. Tarr, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982.

Support from the NEA, the Andrew W Mellon Fdn. and the Caribbean Conservation Association. 88 pages. Ecotourism in the Caribbean began with this well illustrated (with photos by the late Jashina Tarr) survey of the historic and natural resources of many of the Caribbean Islands. Book provides information about local preservation regulations, as well as suggestions for a collaborative approach.

Order Code: 102 $25.00

Cultural Tourism: A New Opportunity for the Industrial City?

Carole Rifkind, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1981. 16 pages.

Covers Partners' conference on cultural tourism and new opportunities for the industrial city, held April 11-12, 1980 in Paterson, N.J. It is an excellent review of the conference proceedings and a useful overview of the whole issue of tourism and the revitalization of the industrial city. Lead article in monthly magazine of ULI - the Urban Land Institute describes Paterson, NJ's use of historic mill buildings to create a specialty shopping and cultural center. Other articles: "Tourism as a Tool for Economic Development" and "Implementing Tourism: The Role of the Community."

Order Code: 94 $10.00

Prospects for Regional Tourism Development in New England

Carole Rifkind, Washington, DC: Partners, 1981. 16 pages.

Lead article in monthly magazine of ULI - the Urban Land Institute assays value of regional tourism development in New England. Other articles include "Physical Needs: Land Use Planning Tourism."

Order Code: 92 $10.00

Tourism and Communities: Process, Problems, Solutions

Carole Rifkind, ed., Washington, DC: Partners with support from the Design Arts Program of the NEA, 1981. Livability Digest. Vol. 1, No. 1, 46 pages.

This issue of Livability Digest, aimed at design professionals, tourism professionals, and community leaders sheds light and shares information on the specifics of mass tourism and supplies some approaches for solutions.

Order Code: 93 $10.00

Cultural Tourism: A New Opportunity for the Industrial City

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1980. 73 pages.

Report to the Economic Development Administration of the US Department of Commerce on a conference held in Paterson, NJ, April 11-12, 1980.

Order Code: 103 $15.00

Neighborhood Works: Cultural Learning Strategies

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 10 pages

A report prepared for the Neighborhood Housing Services, Multi-Family Housing Task Force; to explore how learning centers in neighborhood housing service members could include cultural youth mentoring programs. The following existing programs are included in the report: Alamo Area Mutual Housing Association in San Antonio, the Mutual Housing Association of Hawaii, Rocky Mountain Housing Authority and the Sacramento Mutual Housing Authority.

Order Code: 947 $5.00

Developing An Arts-Based Economic Development Strategy in Your Community

Evan Crutcher, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 65 pages.

This resource guide was prepared for a one-day training session with the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation focusing upon community economic development and developing an arts-based economic development strategy in your community. This is part of an ongoing effort of Partners with NRC to develop a five-day curriculum on Culture Builds Community.

Order Code: 948 $25.00

Culture Builds Community Evaluation

Philadelphia, PA: Mark J. Stern and Susan C. Seifert, SIAP, 2002. 38 pages

A final report upon the four-year Culture Builds Community initiative undertaken by Partners with the William Penn Foundation and with the local management of Beth Feldman Brandt. The goals of the initiative were to build future audiences for the arts and strengthen disadvantaged communities in the Philadelphia region.

Order Code: 949 $10.00

Mobilizing Arts and Cultural Resources for Youth and Community Development

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 100 pages.

A workbook developed for the third course in Partners' developmental training series with the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation focusing upon using the arts and cultural resources for community organizing and comprehensive community change and youth development/youth mentoring programs for community development organizations.

Order Code: 950 $25.00

Culture Builds Jamaica, Queens: Arts and Culture Impact Community and Economic Development

Angela Blocker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 60 pages.

This report was prepared for the Greater Jamaica Development Corporation with funds provided by the Citigroup Foundation and the Rockefeller Foundation, showing how cultural strategies could contribute to the economic development of inner city retail and shopping areas.

Order Code: 104 $20.00

Connections, Winter 2001 Wrap Up Edition

Sue Coppa, Ed., Washington, DC: Partners, 2001. 3 pages.

Newsletter on Partners' Culture Builds Communities Initiative in Philadelphia. This is the concluding issue of Connections, a publication started to support the participants and expand the knowledge of this demonstration program throughout the country.

Order Code: 105 $5.00

Culture Builds Communities:

The Power of the Arts to Strengthen Neighborhoods

Maura C. Ciccarelli-Green, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 28 Pages.

Summary publication which describes Partners' four year initiative of putting culture to work as a building block in Philadelphia communities with the support of the William Penn foundation.

Examines 4 areas where arts-based programming can have an impact: community building, youth development, cultural identity and understanding, and economic development.

Order Code: 873 $10.00

Culture Builds Jamaica: Phase One Final Report

Washington, DC: Partners, 2001. 148 pages.

A report upon the joint venture of Partners and Greater Jamaica Development Corporation of exploring how economic development could be furthered by using cultural marketing, promotion and business development strategies in this diverse area of Queens. The joint hope was to create a national model of showing how culture could affect commercial and retail development in inner cities across America.

Order Code: 910 $30.00

Building a Field: The Arts Professional in Youth and Community Development — Second Convening, October 19-20, 2000, Minneapolis, MN

The Packard Foundation, Minneapolis, MN: The Packard Foundation, Partners for Livable Communities, 2000.

Briefing Binder prepared by the Packard Foundation for this initiative initiated in collaboration with Partners for Livable Communities for its second meeting in Minneapolis, MN. This forum was to explore the work of Shirley Brice Heath and examine how to create a training mentoring relationship for those artists that see youth development as their artistic form.

Order Code: 872 $20.00

American Libraries

American Library Association, 2000 June/July. 152 pages.

Featuring five perspectives of community leaders on libraries as a building resource including Ray Suarez, Jenny Keyser, Amitai Etzioni, Jonathan Kozol, and Robert McNulty

Order Code: 888 $10.00

Best Practices on Culture and Economic Development

Angela Blocker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 30 pages.

A compilation of best practices on what communities around the country are doing to use culture to enhance the economic development of small business in neighborhoods. The Best Practices are part of a project, co-sponsored by Partners and the Greater Jamaica Development Corporation, to use culture for economic development in Queens, NY. Sponsored by Citibank and Rockefeller Foundation.

Order Code: 956 $7.50

Building a Field: The Professional Artist Youth and Community Development Final Report

San Jose, California: Partners, 2000. 17 pages.

A 17-page report resulting from the Partners'-sponsored Packard symposium by Partners for Livable Communities and Shirley Brice-Heath on exploring a new professional field of professional artists, youth, and community development. This report is a launching pad for the next meeting of this group, taking place on October 19-20, following the Grantmaking in the Arts annual meeting in Minneapolis.

Order Code: 106 $10.00

Culture Builds Communities Community Workbook

Kathy Murnion and Imani Drayton-Hill, Eds., Washington, DC: Partners, 1999. 70 pages.

This worksheet lays out Culture Builds Community as a leadership training session subject for development of a one-day program. This publication is an evolving prototype of the continued application of Partners' Culture Builds Community workbook originally done by Kathy Booth.

Order Code: 107 $25.00

Art of Work and the Work of Art

Hannah Roberts, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 40 pages.

With funding from the Eugene & Agnes Meyer Foundation and the Fannie Mae Foundation, this report looks at school-to-work initiatives around the United States, including best practices.

Order Code: 108 $15.00

Art Show:Youth and Community Development, a Resource Guide

Shirley Brice Heath and Laura Smyth, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 96 pages.

This is a book prepared for a popular audience on how to learn from Ms. Heath's 10 years of research evaluating youth programs for the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Her research shows that after-school, at-risk youth development programs that are culture-based and done outside of but in tandem with the school, had the highest ability of reaching young children at risk and helping them develop productive and successful lives.

Order Code: 109 $10.00

Arts and Culture as Tools for Asset-Based Community Development

Denver, Colorado: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 75 pages.

Partners for Livable Communities' Liam O'Connor, Cathy Weitz, and Jamaica Center for Arts and Learning's Veronique Lemure prepared a seminar for the Enterprise Foundation's National Network Conference Workshop. This portfolio was handed out as a resource to some 40 odd registrants/attendees at the Enterprise Foundation working group.

Order Code: 111 $10.00

Community Arts Fund – Greater Kansas City Community Foundation

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 50 pages.

A series of background materials developed for a Partnership Planning Workshop to assist grantees in developing proposals to the Collaborative Grant category of the Lila Wallace Culture Builds Community initiative.

Order Code: 957 $7.50

Best Practices for the Community Art Fund: A Collection of Examples from Local and National Organizations

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 20 pages.

This is a workbook of background materials used by applicants to the culture and community development funds made available through a leadership initiative of the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation and prepared by Partners for Livable Communities. An excellent collection of best practices and guidelines for innovative grant programs.

Order Code: 112 $10.00

Coming Up Taller Awards

Judith Weitz, Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, President's Committee on the Arts and Humanities, 1998. 32 Pages.

Brochure of the award winners from 1998 of this national recognition of youth arts mentoring program.

Order Code: 877 $5.00

Culture and Community:A Symbiotic Relationship for Livable Communities

Don Garfield, consultant for Partners, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 23 pages.

A position paper that weaves together an expanded definition of Partners' Culture Builds Community both domestic and international application

Order Code: 870 $7.00

Business Arts Quarterly, September 1997

Washington, DC: Journal of the BCA Development Corporation, 1997 September. 10 pages.

Quarterly publication of the Bronx Cultural Development Corporation, features a roundtable discussion with eight strategists, including Partners' Robert H. McNulty, exploring directions and opinions on arts and community and economic development. Also includes the commentary of John McKnight, Holly Sidford, Gary Ivory, Director of Community Assets-Enterprise Foundation; Nick Rabkin, Senior Program Officer of MacArthur Foundation; Kathy Pavlick, Vice President, Corporate Social Responsibility-Chase Manhattan Bank; and Terry Holley, Director of Programs, Regional Development-East Tennessee Community Foundation.

Order Code: 471 $5.00

Fact Sheets on Multiple Benefit Arguments from Culture Builds Community

Washington, DC: Partners, 1997. 6 pages.

Showing how the Culture Builds Community Initiatives can support education, race relations, multiculturalism, managing the natural built environment, economic development, and image in American cities.

Order Code: 113 $5.00

Some Examples of How Culture Builds Community

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 4 pages.

National Policy prepared materials. Examples of how culture builds community. Focus under human development investments, resources for community building, physical investments, and income-generating investments.

Order Code: 114 $3.00

Community Potentials: Can Culture Build Communities?

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. Vol. 1 No. 1. 16 pages.

Partners' philosophy defined in Partners' newest publication, Community Potentials, focusing upon Partners' national Culture Builds Communities initiative.

Order Code: 117 $5.00

Arts and Culture as Assets for Community Building: A Community Workbook

Susanna Williams, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 120 pages.

This workbook was written by a Partners program officer for a workshop of the National Community Reinvestment Corporation's Community Investment Institute, held September 23-24, 1997. It was used to teach the first course ever given by the Community Reinvestment Institute training program on culture as a component of an asset-based community development strategy.

Order Code: 115 $25.00

Art Works to Build Communities

Penelope Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 52 pages.

A position paper and feasibility study undertaken for the William Penn Foundation on designing an innovative multi-disciplinary program of putting culture to work supporting low-income communities in Philadelphia. The report led to a Foundation sponsored, four-year initiative in Philadelphia, managed by Partners.

Order Code: 958 $15.00

Role of Nonprofit Organizations in Renewing Community

Denver, CO: National Civic League, 1996 Winter. National Civic Review, Vol. 85, No. 4. 64 pages.

Issue of National Civic Review dealing with role of nonprofit organizations in community development. Guest editor Raul Yzaguirre of the National Council for La Raza assembled articles including one by Robert H. McNulty on the role of the arts in community renewal, as well as articles by John McKnight, Bart Harvey, Pat Edwards, Richard Louve.

Order Code: 474 $15.00

Art of Regeneration

Robert McNulty, Nottingham, England: The City of Nottingham, 1996 March. 5 Pages.

An international conference including a "Building Successful Communities" presentation by Robert McNulty of Partners. This conference sponsored by Comedia and the City of Nottingham was a national/international gathering looking at the role of culture as a regeneration strategy for U.K. communities.

Order Code: 869 $3.00

Art of Regeneration

Francois Matarosso, Ed, Nottingham, England: 1996 March. 98 pages.

Conference papers from the Art of Regeneration conference sponsored by city of Nottingham and Comedia Associates. Presentations at conference included one on "Building Successful Communities" by Robert H. McNulty.

Order Code: 475 $25.00

Institutions as Fulcrums of Change:

A Creative Reimagining of Every Community's Resources

Kathy Booth, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 92 pages.

Thought provoking resource that explains how basic institutions found in every community – parks, zoos, libraries, arts organizations, police departments, schools, and churches – can be important catalysts for community building agendas. Using 36 case studies, 12 institutional categories, and an extensive resource list, this book offers a number of outstanding examples and critical strategies that have enabled traditional institutions to do unusual work.

Order Code: 119 $20.00

A Commitment to Culture, Stone Soup Magazine

Kathy Booth, ed., Washington, DC: Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation, 1996. Vol. 14, No. 4.

Magazine describes the importance of arts and culture in every community in the United States and argues for their redefinition, not as frills or luxuries but as essential and useful agents for invigorating and restoring character to our communities. Defines how culture works and implicitly offers suggestions on how communities nationwide can increase cultural awareness and community cohesiveness to overcome special problems. A must read for anyone interested in using culture in improving society and building stronger communities.

Order Code: 118 $5.00

Public Markets: A Fulcrum of Change for the Community

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 4 pages.

Brochure describes ways in which public markets can benefit communities and describes successful public market/ community programs. Supported by the Gund Foundation.

Order Code: 121 $5.00

Preserving Everyone's History

Henry G. Cisneros, Washington, DC,: The Urban Institute, 1996. 19 pages.

This booklet, the sixth in a series by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development produced by the Urban Institute, explores historic preservation and culture as asset-based community development strategies.

Order Code: 120 $7.00

Museums in the Social and Economic Life of a City

American Association of Museums, 1996. 45 pages.

Proceedings of a conference held in Philadelphia in March of 1993 to explore how to make the enormous offerings of our museums more accessible to the entire community, and how to ensure that they affect the entire community. A major topic of this conference was how to get museums to reach out to underserved segments of the population, so that a museum's base will broaden and it will become more self-sustaining. These proceedings outline noble and necessary goals for museums when public funds are scarce.

Order Code: 123 $10.00

Arts and Culture: Before School, In School, After School, Beyond School: How to put arts into the core of learning

Hannah Roberts, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 6 pages.

A position paper capturing Partners' look at the use of culture as a resource in preparing young people for productive, entrepreneurial, and successful lives.

Order Code: 110 $5.00

Building a Caring Community Manual

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. With funding from The Ford Foundation. 60 pages.

Guide to building communities that care for children stresses collaboration between park and recreation programs and schools. Topics covered include strategies for reaching at-risk-youth through innovative programs, illustrated by case studies and best practices.

Order Code: 122 $15.00

Culture Builds Communities: A Guide to Partnership Building and Putting Culture to Work on Social Issues

Kathy Booth, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 86 pages.

A publication showing how cultural resources can address social concerns like youth at risk and leverage community revitalization includes 20 case studies and lots of advice on how to formulate cultural programs with a community focus, create strategic collaboratives, and implement sustainable projects.
Order Code: 125 $25.00

Culture Can Build Communities, Reflections

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 8 Pages.

A position paper on the culture building agenda including sections on jobs, human development, finance, leadership, and its special application to tourism
Order Code: 874 $3.00

Culture Builds Communities:

Assessments and Recommendations Emerging from a Retreat Convened in Washington, DC

Thomas Walton, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 29 pages.

This report, based on the experiences of 10 outstanding artist activists, describes the key issues shaping the future of community action projects that employ arts resources. Offering insight into what hinders projects, the report gives recommendations for partnership building and concrete action steps to expand the role of cultural resources. A rare perspective on the work of artist activists and the lessons they have to teach anyone interested in comprehensive community action strategies.
Order Code: 126 $10.00

Strengthening Communities Through Cultural Strategies: The Role of Cultural Leadership

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 170 pages.

Based on a year-long study, this report to the Rockefeller Foundation defines what cultural strategies work well, when and how they are accepted, why programs succeed and fail, and what needs to be done to strengthen this field. Detailed case studies of 50 programs also provide profiles of outstanding artist activists.
Order Code: 124 $25.00

Museums in the Life of the City: Strategies for Community Partnerships

Washington, DC: American Association of Museums, 1995. 47 pages.

A publication prepared by the American Association of Museums following the joint venture with Partners for Livable Communities in Museums in the Life of the City, a three-year initiative sponsored by the Pew Trusts. An excellent report upon Partners' laboratory in Philadelphia.
Order Code: 127 $15.00

Building a Caring Community: Delivering Social Services to Children At Risk Through Urban and Recreation Programs

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 51 pages.

Interim report to the Ford Foundation on a project designed to acquaint civic leaders, park and recreation officials, and foundations with the potential of park and recreation operations for serving the needs of at-risk children. Offers lots of insight and analysis. Includes more than 20 "best practices" of programs already delivering services through park and recreation departments and programs that could be adapted for park and recreation departments.
Order Code: 130 $10.00

Culture Builds Communities Pre-Conference Workbook

Bridget Burger, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 10 pages.

This workbook, a collection of best practices, was produced in advance of a national leadership forum on CBC hosted by the Smithsonian Institution. Twenty-two pages of best practices are organized into the following areas: social justice, race relations, multiculturalism, jobs and economic development, individual and community empowerment, youth and families, institutions as fulcrums of change, public sector responsiveness.
Order Code: 131 $10.00

Communities and their Museums:

"Creating a Local Agenda"

San Francisco, CA: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 13 pages.

This is a 13-page report of a workshop sponsored by the San Francisco Foundation. Contribution from the Walter Hoss Foundation of exploring how culture could be put to work as a resource for community building. The report included presentations by Diane Frankel, head of the Institute of Museum Services, Brandee McHale, Jeff Gibney, and moderated by Robert H. McNulty. A lively discussion of how the Bay Area could learn from Culture Builds Community agenda in other places in the United States.
Order Code: 128 $5.00

Parks and Recreation Departments – Strategic Assessment

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1992. 31 pages.

Report on the findings of a research project undertaken by Partners and sponsored by the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA). Case studies identify entrepreneurial and innovative park and recreation programs that serve the community as catalysts for community action and go beyond purely "fun-focused" programs. This is an important resource for park and recreation leaders who want ideas for developing nontraditional programs to better address social issues.
Order Code: 135 $10.00

Wild Kingdoms in the City: Conference Proceedings

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities; Carlsberger Planning, 1992. 76 pages.

Wild Kingdoms in the City addresses how aquariums, zoos, botanical gardens, and other living collections can serve as fulcrums of change in an urban community. Conference speakers include Mayor Joe Riley, of Charleston, South Carolina, Nicholas Brown, of the National Aquarium of Baltimore, and Roger Caras, former wildlife correspondent for ABC.
Order Code: 134 $15.00

Public Library in Partnership with Community's Request for Participation

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1992. 8 pages.

Description of Partners joint venture with the American Public Library Association/Project for Public Spaces of selecting libraries as joint ventures in our Surdna program exploring the dynamic role of libraries and the services they provide to their communities.

Order Code: 133 $5.00

New Visions For The Public Library

Raleigh Kent, Washington, DC: Partners, 1992. 2 pages.

Reprint of magazine article reports on a brainstorming sessions with Disney people and other distinguished imaginers on reinventing the public library as a key resource in the life of a community.

Order Code: 132 $5.00

Renaissance: Museums as Bridges to Community Renewal

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1988. 32 pages

A transcript of a presentation made by Robert McNulty, President of Partners, and Kathy Dwyer Southern, Vice President of the American Association of Museums, on the role of the museum in the economic and social revitalization of communities. The presentation was made at the 1988 Annual Meeting of AAM in Pittsburgh.

Order Code: 959 $7.00

Libraries are Good for Business

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1984. 7 pages.

The Libraries are Good for Business program brochure of the Public Library in Partnership with Community program.

Order Code: 129 $5.00

Wingspread Proceedings - Natural and Scenic Resources

A. Tappan Wilder, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1981. 20 pages.

Paper on natural and scenic resources presented at the Wingspread Conference, June 15-17, 1981.

Order Code: 136 $5.00

City and the Arts: A Civic Handbook of Grants Program

Andy Leon Harney, ed., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Places, 1980. 48 pages.

This handbook highlights the 40 different grant categories and programs for which city and county government agencies are eligible from the National Endowment for the Arts. Not created simply to point out potential sources for funds, but to demonstrate the rich opportunities for involvement in the arts by virtually every city or county government agency.

Order Code: 885 $15.00

Developing a Cultural Plan – St. Paul, Minnesota: A Strategy for Arts, Culture and Entertainment.

Laura Durham, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 25 pages.

A report on a forum held in St. Paul, June 27-28, 2002, that summarizes recommendations for moving ahead with a landmark cultural strategy to be undertaken by the City of Saint Paul.

Order Code: 946 $5.00

Arts and Entertainment Districts

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 50 pages

A Smart Growth – Arts and Entertainment District Application Manual prepared for the Department of Business and Economic Development of the State of Maryland. Local jurisdictions can apply for benefits created by the State of Maryland legislation to encourage arts and entertainment districts statewide to stimulate community development. The guide includes case studies of arts districts from around the country.

Order Code: 952 $30.00

Partners for Livable Communities/Greater Jamaica Development Corporation Advisory Meeting

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 8 pages.

A report on a the meeting of the Advisory Committee to critique the first phase of the project exploring cultural resources for minority and small business development in Jamaica, Queens. Committee members included: Anne Corbett, director of the Cultural Development Corporation; Larry Houston, principal of the Atlantic Group; Juan Guiterrez, district manager of HACE Main Street Program; and Susan Schear, president of Artisin.

Order Code: 961 $5.00

The Philadelphia Culture Builds Community Initiative

Sue Copp, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 11 pages.

A summary report of Partners' four-year initiative of putting culture to work as a systematic and persistent resource in the lives of low-income communities in Philadelphia. The report also summarizes important lessons learned in using culture as a community building resource.

Order Code: 953 $3.00

The Willing Community:

A Journey Forward to the Place We Want

United Way of Winnipeg, Canada, 2000. 40 pages.

Partners for Livable Communities served as the key facilitator of a two-day retreat exploring ways for the United Way of Winnipeg to help lead a reinvestment in social and human development in the central city of Winnipeg, particularly for its aboriginal/Native American population and their need for growth and development. Partners recommended the use of quality of life strategies as a resource for reaching people with special needs.

Order Code: 954 $10.00

Report on the Attucks School Charette in Kansas City

Angela Blocker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 26 pages.

A gathering of consultants and local leaders in Kansas City to consider the best "reuse" of the historic Afro-American school for the 18th and Vine community and Kansas City.

Order Code: 137 $10.00

Business/Arts Quarterly, January 1999

Washington, DC: The Journal of the BCA Development Corporation, 1999. 16 pages.

A roundtable discussion (16 pages) on cultural assets with comments by John McKnight, Holly Sidford, Gary Ivory, Director of Community Assets-Enterprise Foundation; Nick Rabkin, Senior Program Officer of MacArthur Foundation; Kathi Pavlick, Vice President, Corporate Social Responsibility-Chase Manhattan Bank; and Terry Holley, Director of Programs, Regional Development-East Tennessee Community Foundation

Order Code: 467 $7.50

Community Arts Fund, Guidelines of the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 9 pages.

These guidelines were prepared in concert with Partners for Livable Communities under contract to a national demonstration program of the Wallace Foundation and a network of community foundations across the country.

Order Code: 140 $5.00

Gem Theatre Charrette: Summary Report

Imani Drayton-Hill, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 20 pages.

A report on the charrette undertaken in Kansas City with the Gem Theatre to see how it could reach out more to the community to engage young people in the area of 18th & Vine in its programs and activities.

Order Code: 138 $10.00

City-Wide Amenity Resource Inventory Park Forest Southeast, St. Louis, Missouri.

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 36 pages.

A directory of resources that could be put to use in helping a neighborhood deal with their children's needs as they grow and mature in a community on the move.

Order Code: 139 $15.00

Business/Arts Quarterly, April 1998

Washington, DC: The Journal of the BCA Development Corporation, 1998. 10 pages.

A roundtable discussion of cultural leaders on issues confronting arts organizations experimenting with entrepreneurship and community economic development, featuring a number of distinguished individuals in the field of culture and economics.

Order Code: 468 $5.00

Memphis Places as Art Charrette Summary Report and Workbook

Washington, DC: Partners, 1998. 110 pages.

This report summarizes a 2-day (September 18-19, 1998) charrette sponsored by Partners for Livable Communities on urban art in Memphis. This report (10 pages) summarizes the findings and recommendations of a distinguished panel of participants including representatives from Project for Public Spaces and Townscape Institute, and public art officers from Houston, TX, and Portland, OR. Robert McNulty served as moderator and chair. In addition, a workbook was put together for the participants entitled Urban Arts and featuring some 100 pages of background material and information on Memphis and public art/urban art issues underway in that community.

Order Code: 142 $25.00

Community Arts Fund Best Practices

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. Greater Kansas City Community Foundation's Culture Builds Community Grants Program. 15 pages.

This document focuses on the jump-start Best Practices grant, small grants that move people ahead. Also discusses Creative Community and New Venture Best Practices, showing where collaboration between community development and youth organizations can produce better communities.

Order Code: 141 $10.00

Culture Builds Communities, An Initiative of the William Penn Foundation managed by Partners for Livable Communities – Creating a Catalyst for Change

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997 6 pages.

A six-page description summarizing this report used as a hand-out by Partners.

Order Code: 147 $5.00

Report on a Strategic Retreat of the Cultural Collaborative Jamaica, August 7, 1997

Washington, DC: Partners, 1997. 17 pages.

Background materials for a meeting with the Greater Jamaica Development Corporation and its Cultural Collaborative partners to define the benefit of collaboration in the Jamaica area of Queens, NY.

Order Code: 144 $10.00

Community Partnerships for Arts and Culture Task Force Meeting

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 50 pages.

A resource guide developed for the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation to design a CBC program in Kansas City. This was put together for a series of working groups to aid building relationships with partners in the arts: Arts Culture in the Future Connecting with Kansas City's Youth, Creating Dynamic Neighborhoods Through the Arts, Assessing the Value of Arts and Culture. Gretchen Klimoski's manual, A Workbook for Team Leaders and Facilitators, was used as a guide for the facilitators of these different strategy groups. This task force meeting resource is divided into sections on vision, strategy, best practices, and a variety of backup materials.

Order Code: 145 $15.00

Directory of Participating Organizations, Staff Resources, and National Advisory Committee

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. Culture Builds Philadelphia. 14 pages.

This directory for the initiative of the William Penn Foundation managed by Partners for Livable Communities includes the participating organizations in core support, earned income, artistic enhancement, youth access, and youth collaboration. This directory also provides a roster of the National Advisory Committee, the evaluation team, and the index.

Order Code: 143 $5.00

Art Works to Build Community

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 70 pages.

Describes management strategy and philosophical basis for a demonstration program on culture and community developed by Partners for the William Penn Foundation in Philadelphia. The strategy presented could serve as a model for other communities wanting to use community-level cultural resources to organize and fit their community and neighborhood agendas.

Order Code: 148 $15.00

Camden Redevelopment Agency Report: Culture Builds Camden

Kathy Booth, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 23 pages.

Report on strategies for putting culture to work prepared for Camden, N.J., Redevelopment Authority analyzes cultural groups and organizations in one of the country's hardest-hit, economically depressed cities and shows how those cultural resources could work in concert to create an infrastructure of opportunity.

Order Code: 149 $5.00

Contra Costa County Public Library:

A Community Vision for a New Central Library

September, 1994, New York: Partners, Project for Public Spaces, Public Library Association, 1994. 60 pages.

Two reports on the visioning effort undertaken in Contra County, Calif., to integrate the public library into the cultural, economic, educational, and social agendas in the community. One reports on the visioning event, a conference on places and spaces for arts in civic economics. The other presents the specific conclusions about using the library as a fulcrum of change in the County.

Order Code: 150 $15.00

Forsyth County Public Library:

A Community Vision for the Central Library

Washington, DC: Partners; Project for Public Spaces; Public Library Association, 1994. 15 pages.

A report on a project funded by the Surdna Foundation of New York to develop an expanded community role for public libraries. It presents a case study of how a team of local and national experts designed and facilitated a local visioning and goal-setting process that created both a blue-print for local action and a model process for revitalizing public libraries across the nation. The Central Library of Forsyth County Public Library system was one of five communities nation-wide to participate in the "Public Libraries: In Partnership with Communities" Project. Topics include developing a vision for the public library; project goals; findings and recommendations, and; implementation strategies.

Order Code: 151 $5.00

Riverside City and County Public Library:

A Community Vision for the Central Library

Washington, DC: Partners; Project for Public Spaces; Public Library Association, 1993. 18 pages with appendices.

This report summarizes the recommendations of a study conducted at the Riverside Library, one of the participating libraries in the "Public Libraries in Partnership with Communities" program sponsored by the Surdna Foundation and undertaken in collaboration with the Project for Public Spaces and the Public Library Association. The study examined ideas for expanded library services and programs and for use of the public spaces surrounding the library, solicited from staff, the Board of Library Trustees, a Steering Committee and the general public.

Order Code: 152 $10.00

Report to the Cultural Plan Study Committee; Charlotte, NC
Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1992. 63 pages.

One of the first steps in a cultural planning process for Charlotte and Mecklenburg County, N.C., this report compiles focus group participants' verbatim responses (grouped by focus groups and by concerns), provides several insightful responses and observations on these coordinated efforts, and recommends how the planning process could be structured, who should be involved and tentative cost factors.

Order Code: 154 $15.00

Museums in the Life of the City

Portia Hamilton-Sperr, Philadelphia, PA: The Philadelphia Initiative for Cultural Pluralism, 1992. 48 pages.

This book, dealing with the role of museums in a changing society, highlights 11 pilot projects of community organizations and museums that were matched up as partners in addressing difficult community issues. The report indicates that museums are valuable fulcrums of change and can serve as a resource to any community dealing with issues of multi-cultural understanding.

Order Code: 153 $15.00

Chicago Botanic Garden: Horizons for the Future Service to the Greater Chicago Community Initiative

Washington, DC: Partners, American Association of Museums, 1990. 112 pages.

Report on the Chicago Botanic Garden's opportunities for an expanded leadership role in dealing with social and economic needs of Chicago and Cook County. The report makes recommendations for putting a vision into action by forming partnerships with civic and business leaders in the areas and building upon the Garden's outreach programs.

Order Code: 155 $25.00

Final Report: Planning Grant Awarded to Partners and the American Association of Museums by the Pew Trust

Washington, DC: Partners, 1989. 63 pages.

A planning grant was given to Partners and the American Association of Museums to develop a framework for a National demonstration program putting museums to work as front line resources for low and moderate income neighborhoods in Philadelphia. This planning grant led to the development of a multiple year program between Partners and AAM, a staffed office in Philadelphia, and a concluding national leadership forum on museums and community.

Order Code: 896 $7.50

A Plan for Increasing Private Sector Support for Public Libraries in the State of California

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1988. 57 pages.

This document details the issues of common concern to public libraries and the private sector and suggests an action plan that would result in stronger relationships between the two sectors. The overall recommendation is to turn libraries into pivotal points in assisting the community to adapt to new challenges in society. This report makes a strong case that libraries should be a major player on the community problem-solving agenda.

Order Code: 156 $15.00

Arizona: The Arts in Partnership/1987-1990

Shelly Cohen, Washington, DC: Arizona Commission on the Arts in cooperation with Partners, 1987. 32 pages.

This report highlights the role of the arts as a resource - for education, multiculturalism, design in the built environment, economic development, and tourism - and the role of arts as a community service provider in partnership with the other sectors of the Arizona community. A landmark cultural strategies publication.

Order Code: 157 $10.00

Culture Builds Communities

Media/Video

ArtShow: Youth and Community Development, 2000

Washington, DC: Partners, 1999. 40 minutes.

A videotape directed by Shirley Brice Heath with support from the National Center for Research on Gifted and Talented, the GE Fund, and the Spencer Foundation. This video is based on a decade of field research on positive learning environments that attract young people in the non-school hours. Distributed by Partners for Livable Communities. 40 minutes.

Order Code: 158 $10.00

Turning Culture into Community with Robert H. McNulty

Ventura, CA: Partners, 1998. 30 minutes.

A presentation to Ventura, California Civic Leadership at the Ventura History and Art Museum on how to put culture to work as a building block for Ventura's future. A half-hour presentation and questions and answers professionally videotaped by the Kuehan Miles Production, Inc.

Order Code: 159 $15.00

The Mid-size City: Exploring its Unique Place in Urban Policy

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 5 pages.

A position paper on a forum hosted by Mayor William Johnson of Rochester, NY, to discuss the issues of regionalism, smart growth and leadership in creating an economic competitive edge for mid-size cities and to explore successful approaches to the issues as they relate to mid-size cities.

Order Code: 928 $3.00

Aging in Place

Richard Kreig, Horizon Foundation, Columbia, MD: 2002.

8 pages.

A booklet by Richard Kreig, President and CEO of the Horizon Foundation, making the case for a national agenda that focuses on helping senior citizens remain in their homes for as long as possible. The booklet covers issues from home repair and modification to affordable-in-home care and next steps to advance the agenda. Partners and the Horizon Foundation sponsored a national leadership conference on Aging in Place, June 18-19, 2002.

Order Code: 962 $5.00.

Aging in Place: Solutions to a Crisis in Housing and Care

Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation, Washington, D.C.,

2002. 16 pages.

The issue of how people can age in place in a safe, healthy and dignified manner is a front-burner issue, especially in low-income neighborhoods. This booklet, produced by the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation and the NeighborWorks Network, highlights the challenges to seniors' maintaining safe housing, good health and independence and case studies of efforts to meet these challenges.

Order Code: 944 $5.00

National Coalition for Promoting Physical Activity Strategy Meeting Report

Jeff Falcusan, Washington, DC: Partners, 2001. 14 pages.

This summary report resulted from a forum held with the NCPPA and a leadership group from Partners. This brainstorming session explored ways in which the public health crises of physical inactivity and obesity affect American society. The summary report captures conversations on the public health agenda, on how Partners might advance these issues, and how leaders—elected, appointed, and nonprofit—might merge these issues into a larger civic agenda of livability.

Order Code: 922 $5.00

Best Practices, Partners for Livable Communities:

A compendium of ideas and models for improving livability.

Anissa Weinraub and Sue Coppa, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 186 pages.

This publication was prepared by Anissa Weinraub and Sue Coppa, Director of Partners' Livability Clearinghouse, and it is divided into sections: The Economics of Art and Culture, Livable Design, Youth and Family, and Leadership. Developed from Partners' best practice files and databases.

Order Code: 160 $30.00

Livable City Resource Lists: (1) Resources from Partners' Library, (2) Resources that Partners help to prepare

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000.

10 Pages.

These selections for readings undertaken by Partners served as the backbone for the appendices for recommended reading in Partners' The Livable City book published by Partners and McGraw-Hill.

Order Code: 833 $5.00

Livable City: Revitalizing Urban Communities

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, McGraw-Hill, 2000. 200 pages.

A publication concluding Partners' four years of work in 20 cities in the Community Futures Program. This publication is an overview of issues of people, place, leadership, jobs, finance, and regional strategies confronting communities across America. It is available through McGraw-Hill bookstores and Amazon.com or directly from Partners for Livable Communities.

Order Code: 161 $25.00

Innovation and challenge in Community Development - A Global Agenda

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 13 Pages.

A position Paper by McNulty on the dynamics of community change and the resources of an asset-based community approach as applicable to third world development around the world.

Order Code: 836 $5.00

Philanthropy and Economic Development

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 62 pages.

Resource guide prepared by Partners for Livable Communities for the Southeast Council of Foundations' pre-conference workshop in Asheville, NC. A set of best practices and a workbook on economic development briefing for some 20 foundation leaders.

Order Code: 162 $15.00

What is Livability?

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 11 Pages.

A paper by Robert McNulty undertaken as a component of The State of the American Community 2000 and the 25 Year Report. The paper is McNulty's review of Partners' agendas defining livability during our first 25 years.

Order Code: 163 $3.00

Creating the Globally Competitive Community

David D. Bowes, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities and the Manufacturing Institute, 1997. 80 pages.

A local leadership guide to economic growth and quality of life, a joint initiative of Partners for Livable Communities and the Manufacturing Institute. This publication is the culmination of a two-year venture with the National Association of Manufacturers looking ahead on how collaboration can enhance the growth of small and medium-sized manufacturing to create wealth in your community, an essential resource for economic competitiveness in this new global market.

Order Code: 164 $20.00

Energy and Livability Linkages: Issues and Best Practices

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 18 pages.

A background and position paper prepared by Partners in 1997 examining the linkage of energy conservation and livability; including an appendix of further readings and contacts including many web site locations.

Order Code: 165 $5.00

Business Improvement Districts: Taxation with Representation

Christopher D. Benner, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 78 pages.

Report describes business improvement districts, in which property owners essentially tax themselves to provide additional services or capital improvements. Two dozen best practices show how business improvement districts work, and appendices provide leads to other sources of information.

Order Code: 166 $20.00

Creating Globally Competitive Communities

International City/County Management Association., Management Information Service, Vol. 28, No. 11., 1996. 16 pages.

Report written by David B. Bowes, senior program associate at Partners and a former vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, emphasizes that a community's global competitiveness depends on balancing business strength, environmental health, and quality of life.

Order Code: 169 $5.00

Building Livable Communities Through Transportation

Washington, DC: US Department of Transportation, 1996. 26 pages.

Booklet describes how transportation policies contribute to livability.

Order Code: 167 $5.00

Creating Globally Competitive Communities

Industry Week magazine, 1996. 24 pages.

The 21st century belongs to jurisdictions that put export driven manufacturing at the core of balanced economic growth to maximize their quality of life. This is a summary from Industry Week of the preliminary review of our joint venture with the National Association of Manufacturers on the cardinal principles of global competition of creating competitive communities for advancing small and medium-sized manufacturing. This summary highlights the fourteen principles Partners and NAM deemed essential.

Order Code: 168 $5.00

Affordable Housing Portfolio

Vanna Whitney, Washington, DC: Partners, 1995. 21 pages.

Collection of Partners' proposed programs that treat the need for developing affordable housing for all sectors of our community. This document includes a valuable resource list of individuals, organizations, developers, architects, publications, books, and journals that pertain to the issue of affordable housing.

Order Code: 535 $7.50

Retrofitting Suburbia:Making it Livable for Aging in Place - Best Practices

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 85 pages.

Describes national programs for retrofitting first generation suburbs to make them more livable for an aging population.

Order Code: 170 $15.00

Blueprint 2000:A Framework for Building Tomorrow's Communities

Washington, DC: NationsBank Corporation, 1995. 20 pages.

This report highlights recommendations from "Blueprint 2000: Communities for the 21st Century," a conference convened by NationsBank in conjunction with Partners, the National Community Reinvestment Coalition, the National Council of La Raza, and the National Urban League on February 10-12, 1995, in Washington DC. The report includes 10 Principles of Action that cut across notions of community building represented at the conference. In addition, the report contains 16 recommendations to assist in building stronger communities across the nation.

Order Code: 171 $10.00

Putting Families First:Managing Resources to Restore Communities

Marion W. Pines, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 78 pages.

Revisiting more than a dozen innovative programs across the country to turn troubled communities around, Pines' report emphasizes the continued importance of the family as a tool for minimizing social ills, details what is working, and analyzes how future actions can be even more effective, identifying the "points on a compass" for any new action plans for families.

Order Code: 172 $15.00

From Lessons to Action

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 7 Pages.

The concluding chapter of The State of the American Community written by Robert McNulty, 1994 summing up Partners' definition of a livable community and what is needed to make communities better for all of its citizens.

Order Code: 834 $3.00

Family Investment Strategies:Improving the Lives of Children and Communities.

Marion Pines, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 55 pages.

This call to action, written by a senior fellow at the Johns Hopkins University Institute for Policy Studies, features case studies that describe exciting new approaches to welfare strategies, along with advice and information that will allow readers to replicate these programs in their communities. Family Investment Strategies provides hope and definition through innovative strategies for community development.

Order Code: 173 $10.00

Livable City: Revitalizing Urban Communities, Introductions, and Strategies

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 4 Pages.

Summing up the issues and strategies of Partners' renewed definition of livable communities and challenges and changes.

Order Code: 832 $3.00

State of the American Community

Robert H. McNulty and Clint Page, Eds., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 156 pages.

The final report from Partners' State of the American Community initiative, this book talks about leadership, regionalism, visioning and goal setting and presents more than 100 examples culled from five years of research in more than 100 communities in the United States. Authors include David Rusk, John Peterson, Charles Mahtesian, and Neal Peirce.

Order Code: 174 $25.00

Data Analysis Workbook: The First Steps in a Community Reinvestment System Self-Assessment

Corporation for Enterprise Development, 1993. 80 pages.
Prepared by CED to support Partners' work with NationsBank developing a community reinvestment scorecard test. This is an important document with excellent benchmarks and indices that relate to economic development lending and poverty issues within center cities that could be the basis for a set of indices or standards for livability around these issues.
Order Code: 175 $10.00

Interwoven Destinies: Cities and the Nation

New York: The American Assembly, Columbia University, 1993. 23 pages.
Final report of the 82 American Assembly, a group of individuals representing government, academia, law, and the media, gathered in New York to discuss the converging economic and demographic forces that are affecting American cities. It is a marvelous presentation of the elements needed to make our cities more livable.
Order Code: 176 $5.00

Interwoven Destinies

Henry Cisneros, Editor, New York: W.W. Norton & Company, 1993. 367 pages.
Original essays assess the challenges cities face and suggest practical ways to reinvent urban government, rebuild infrastructure and housing, revitalize communities, and reorganize urban justice, education, and health care systems. Also discussed are innovative partnerships among government, the private sector, and community-based organizations pursuing strategies ranging from expanding job creation to improving urban design. Includes Robert H. McNulty's essay, "Quality of Life and Amenities as Urban Investment".
Order Code: 177 $30.00

On the Future - Land Use in Transition: Emerging Forces & Issues Shaping the Real Estate Environment

Washington, DC: Urban Land Institute, 1993. 100 pages.
Ten papers from nationally recognized experts provide provocative descriptions of the forces shaping land use and development in the 1990's, the major land use and development issues that society and the real estate industry face, and marketplace forecasts in center cities, suburbia and exurbia.
Order Code: 542 $10.00

Renewable American Community Conference

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1992. 36 pages.
Program from Partners 1992 conference "The Renewable American Community: Local Solutions to National Problems."
Order Code: 178 $5.00

Place Makes A Difference:

Social Equity and the American Community

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 45 pages.
This report, from the proceedings of a 1989 conference, examines how place affects social equity in American communities. The publication includes key issues, best practices, and action principles formulated by the expert panel of participants.
Order Code: 179 $10.00

Leadership Forum on Environmental Stewardship

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 9 pages.
Booklet describing the Leadership Forum sponsored by Partners and the Shaping Growth Program, important forum that identified creative local solutions to environment and economic development problems.
Order Code: 180 $5.00

Graffiti and Vandalism:

What's the Solution? What's the Problem?

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Places, 1990. 7 Pages.
A paper prepared for a 1990 conference in Sydney, Australia on vandalism and graffiti prevention.
Order Code: 831 $3.00

Better Community Catalog: A Source Book of Ideas, People, and Strategies for Improving the Place Where You Live

Washington, DC: Partners, Acropolis Books Ltd, 1989. 283 pages.
A collection of unique ideas, programs, and solutions that communities across the country have used to solve their problems. Case histories are illustrated with quotes, photographs and illustrations, and accompanied by annotated bibliographies.
Order Code: 182 $20.00

Drug Issue: Thirty Best Practices for Drug Prevention

Memphis, TN: Goals for Memphis, 1989. 53 pages.
The 30 best practices in this report cover areas of community life such as school, work and neighborhoods. They are abstracted from "Goals for Memphis," the planning meeting for a community-wide forum to decrease the abuse of drugs in the Memphis metropolitan community. A framework for addressing the drug problem is introduced, and then the effective drug programs from across the country are presented.
Order Code: 183 $10.00

By Design 2

Washington, DC: Partners for the Design Arts Program of the NEA, 1989. 267 pages.
Describes more than 2,000 grants awarded by the Design Arts Program between 1977 and 1987. Six chapters cover "Design for Communities," "Design for the Environment," "Design for the Arts," "Design for Individuals," "Professional Education and Advancement," and "the Presidential Design Awards."
Order Code: 181 $25.00

Shaping Growth in American Communities, 1988-1990 - The First Two Years

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1987. 32 pages.
A resource guide to Partners' five-year agenda, Shaping Growth in American Communities, and the projects of participating communities.
Order Code: 184 $7.00

Vending Programs: Highlights From Across America

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1987. 80 pages.
Learn how to make street vendors a part of the animation of downtown. Thirteen case studies of actual vending programs, as well as special features of model programs, show how it can be done. Prepared under the auspices of a US Department of Housing and Urban Development grant. This resource is invaluable for those interested in enhancing business activity involving the cityscape.
Order Code: 185 $20.00

Vending Programs: Highlights from Across America

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1986. 150 pages.

Compilation of urban vending programs from 14 cities across the country. Each city is profiled in-depth and a brief description is given of vending ordinances and permits, special features, types of merchandise, etc. A model ordinance on sidewalk vendors is included. A good resource for facilitating the development of a successful vending program.

Order Code: 187 $30.00

Return of the Livable City: Learning from America's Best

Robert H. McNulty, R. Leo Penne and Dorothy R. Jacobsen, Washington, DC: Partners, Acropolis Press, 1986. 336 pages.

Companion volume to The Economics of Amenity gives a close-up and detailed account of the steps and processes used by cities to increase their economic bases by enhancing quality of life. Nearly three dozen cities in the United States and Canada are profiled in what is still the best compilation of "rags to riches" stories of American cities.

Order Code: 186 $25.00

La Comunidad: Design, Development, and Self-Determination in Hispanic Communities

Evagene H. Bond, ed., Washington, DC: Partners with support from the Design Arts Program of the NEA and the Andrew W. Mellon Fdn., 1985. 64 pages.

Profiles a selection of Hispanic neighborhoods and communities (rural New Mexico and sections of Los Angeles, Boston, Tampa, and Miami) that are using environmental design to accomplish cultural, social and economic goals.

Order Code: 188 $10.00

Learning From Galveston

Roberto Brambilla and Gianni Longo, New York: Institute for Environmental Action, 1983. 111 pages.

Another book in the "Learning From" series, this one features leadership and community self-perception, focusing on how committed individuals, rather than a large foundation, began the process of change that took Galveston from a sleepy town beset with many problems to a restored great Gulf city. It also shows the process by which a town placed its best leadership resources at the disposal of community service and instituted major programs to improve and secure its future.

Order Code: 189 $15.00

What Makes a City Livable?

Robert H. McNulty, Atlanta: Atlanta Magazine, 1982. 10 pages.

The lead article in this issue of Atlanta magazine defines livability and details how best to advance strategies that make communities across America more livable.

Order Code: 190 $5.00

Found Spaces: New Uses for Forgotten Places

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1981. 35 pages.

Focuses on the impact that neglected, ignored, or forgotten small spaces (under elevated highways, in alleys, on rooftops and median strips) have in a city. These transition spaces send messages to residents and visitors alike and often signal the upgrading of a community or its apparent decline. They can become a city's bellwether for livability. A startlingly original and still timely look at how attention to detail can improve an entire community's quality of life.

Order Code: 191 $10.00

Neighborhoods in the 1980's

A. Tappan Wilder, ed., Washington, DC: Partners with support from the Design Arts Program of the NEA, Livability Digest, Vol. 1, No. 2., 1980 54 pages.

With a focus on improving the physical quality of cities, this issue of Livability Digest describes how to take stock of neighborhoods' new and old resources; designs, plans and objects; and the preservation and revitalization of neighborhoods.

Order Code: 192 $10.00

How Small Grants Make A Difference: Examples From the Design Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts

Pamela Baldwin, Washington, DC: Partners with support from the NEA, 1980. 60 pages.

Book features neighborhood projects that succeeded with the help of small planning grants from the NEA. A public service guide prepared after Congressional hearings on the Endowment's livable city program, rated by the Senate Banking Committee as one of the most successful urban experiments in America in the 1970's.

Order Code: 194 $10.00

Design Arts 1: Grants Recognition Program

Lance Jay Brown, ed.

Advancement of Science and Art, August 1980, National Endowment for the Arts, 1980. Volume 1. 160 pages.

This first issue of Design Arts was compiled as a retrospective of work undertaken in the field of design arts with grants from the National Endowment for the Arts. The work is grouped into four categories: Public Education and Awareness, Urban Quality and the Arts, Professional Research, and Heritage Conservation and Planning.

Order Code: 195 $20.00

Reviving the Urban Waterfront

Andy Leon Harney, Washington, DC: Partners with support from the NEA and the Office of Coastal Zone Management, 1980. 48 pages.

Describes seven projects that demonstrate redevelopment through imaginative re-use of urban waterfronts. Projects range from comprehensive plans to detailed architectural and engineering studies of waterfront areas. Also included is a list of federal financial and technical resources for waterfront activities. This early publication is still of use wherever there's a waterfront.

Order Code: 193 $10.00

Learning From Baltimore

Roberto Brambilla and Gianni Longo, New York: Institute for Environmental Action, under the auspices of Partners, 1979. 147 pages.

This informative book tells how Baltimore went from "Cinderella" to "Sleeping Beauty" and how the city's leadership, including the public and private sectors, worked together to improve its economic base and livability.

Order Code: 196 $15.00

Learning From Seattle

Roberto Brambilla and Gianni Longo, New York: Institute for Environmental Action, 1979. Sponsored by the National Endowment for the Arts, Architecture, Planning and Design Program. 130 pages.

The first in the "Learning From" series, this book examines what makes Seattle livable, highlighting improvements that have been achieved, the context within which the changes took place; and the processes used to achieve them. It also describes the historic decisions that have contributed to the city's reputation as a livable city. Describes principal projects and programs resulting from contributions of the private sector, government agencies, and community action.

Order Code: 197 $15.00

Federal Presence

Lois Craig, Cambridge: The MIT Press, 1978. 580 pages.

Examines the standards for architecture, construction, and management of federal buildings. It explores both the aesthetic and functional value of government structures while offering a historical perspective of the federal government's attempts to house its services and activities. Although it concentrates on the history of federal design and the search for design excellence in the federal government, its lessons apply to any governmental design improvement agenda.

Order Code: 198 $30.00

By Design I

Washington, DC: Partners for the NEA, 1977. 260 pages.

Describes more than 1,100 projects funded by the Design Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts from 1966 through 1976.

Order Code: 199 $25.00

Conserving Europe's 2000-year Heritage:
Some Hints for an Urban America

Robert H. McNulty and Gordon Binder, Nation's Cities, National League of Cities, 1976. 8 pages.

Magazine article describes a study trip by a group of officials from several US cities to examine urban revitalization and neighborhood conservation projects in Italy, Holland, France, and England.

Order Code: 201 $5.00

Preservation and Conservation: Perspectives, Programs and Projects

Robert H. McNulty, ed., The Journal of Architectural Education, 1976. Vol. 30, No. 2, 32 pages.

Twenty-two distinguished urbanists provide a perspective on preservation and conservation relating historic preservation to the broader community context. Such contributors as David Crane, Harvey Perloff, Ron Shiffman, Paul Byard, and Weiming Lu add a unique perspective to the preservation/conservation issue.

Though now some twenty years old, this still is a unique compilation of perspectives on how preservation relates to the broader issue of community and neighborhood conservation.

Order Code: 200 $10.00

Neighborhood Conservation: A Source Book

Steven A. Klimont, ed., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1975. 231 pages.

Produced for a conference on neighborhood conservation, held in September 1975, this is a source book and reference to the key administrative, legal, financial, social and physical issues of the day, complemented by a resource section consisting of case studies of forty-five cities with a record of neighborhood conservation activity. A copy of the program from this important conference is also included.

Order Code: 204 $20.00

Neighborhood Conservation: Revitalization by Design

Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1975.

4 pages.

Short report following the 1975 Neighborhood Conservation Conference presents several courses of action that address problems of local organization, physical design, and social displacement in American cities.

Order Code: 203 $5.00

Conference on Neighborhood Conservation: Revitalization by Design, Sept. 24 – 26, 1975

Washington, DC: National Endowment for the Arts, 1975. 30 pages.

Proceedings and summary of the Conference on Neighborhood Conservation, which explored methods for conserving old neighborhoods of special urban character and function. Topics covered: zoning power, tax policy, financing, commercial district revitalization, delivery of city services, the transfer of development rights, urban homesteading, imaginative issues of community development revenue sharing, organizing government for neighborhood conservation, and cooperation among levels of government.

Order Code: 202 $10.00

Partners and Hispanic Issues

Washington, DC: Partners, 14 pages.

Anthology from PLACE magazine. Compilation of articles examining the social and cultural role of Hispanics in American communities. Among the topics: "Shaping America: Hispanic Heritage in the US Environment" and "Columbus Made the World Larger," as well as other articles on culture, civil rights housing and development issues.

Order Code: 565 $5.00

A Branding Charette, Roanoke, Virginia

Anna Petrillo, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 11 pages

A report from a Partners' charette in Roanoke, VA, held April 15-16, 2002 to explore the regional image and marketing opportunities for Roanoke. The charette participants included Robert McNulty, Don Geiss, Rowena Stewart, Carolyn Sawyer and Ronald Fleming who recommended broader community recognition of Roanoke's assets and their contribution to improving the quality of life in the region.

Order Code: 942 $5.00

Hobbs, New Mexico:

Creating a Great Good Place Summary Report

Angela Blocker, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 41 Pages.

This serves as a report of a charrette on "main street Hobbs" and a revitalization strategy for a community in the oil and gas belt (i.e, the oil patch) much in need of rethinking economic, social, and environmental agenda. The first step was to restore part of Hobbs as an "historic center"—an educational and cultural gathering place for the entire region.

Order Code: 837 $15.00

Arlington County/Building Communities through Technology

Phil Walsh and Liam O'Connor, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 50 pages.

Community Futures and Quality of Life initiative interim report dealing with the electronic village concept for Arlington County, Virginia as part of its Community Futures initiative.

Order Code: 205 $10.00

Community Reinvestment Scorecard, Chattanooga Reinvestment

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 54 pages.

The 54-page report serves as groundwork to assess Chattanooga's ability to deliver community reinvestment goals. The Corporation of Enterprise Development of Chattanooga used Partners' Community Reinvestment Scorecard to achieve a consensus on methods to maximize CRA, not as a bank responsibility, but as a community agenda.

Order Code: 206 $10.00

Shaping Growth in American Communities: Report to Camden, New Jersey

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1989. 40 pages.

Informative report documents key issues raised at a two-day brainstorming session on downtown revitalization in Camden, N.J. Specific critiques on physical development and urban design, human and resource development, and economic development are given, along with concrete recommendations for action. This report is a clear articulation of a long-term development strategy and an excellent resource for anyone planning a brainstorming process.

Order Code: 207 $10.00

Threshold of Opportunity:

Rosslyn-Ballston Mid-Course Review

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1989. 20 pages.

Report on an intensive three-day analysis of the Rosslyn-Ballston Corridor by four community design experts describes corridor-wide design framework to establish an overall vision of the area so individual projects can be designed to fit better within the general scheme. The report was organized by Partners for The Citizens of Arlington County and the Arlington County Board.

Order Code: 208 $10.00

Land of Opportunity: Columbus, Ohio, Design Charrette

Jamie A. Greene, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1989. 67 pages.

Details findings and recommendations of a 1989 design charrette focusing on Central High School, its site, and the adjoining 65 acres on the west bank of the Scioto River in downtown Columbus, Ohio. The charrette was conducted by Partners, in conjunction with the Greater Columbus Art Council and Downtown Columbus Incorporated. An excellent resource detailing the planning of a major development effort.

Order Code: 209 $15.00

International Guide to Indianapolis

Washington, DC: International Center of Indianapolis, Inc., and Partners, 1989. 62 pages.

This detailed guide to Indianapolis covers everything from government to transportation and includes tips on getting settled in the city.

Order Code: 210 $10.00

Urban Horizons: A Conference on the Future of Communities-April 16-19, 1989

William Hansell, Leo Penne, Graham Toft, Indianapolis, Indiana: Indiana University-Purdue University, 1989. 16 Pages.

Conference Program and Workbook highlighting the issues and challenges of linking community change to quality of life, and to public/private leadership. This conference was co-hosted by ICMA, Indiana Economic Development Council, and Partners.

Order Code: 838 $3.00

Suburban Activity Centers: Tyson's Corner, Virginia

Washington, DC: The Urban Land Institute, 1987. 89 pages.

Pilot study of Suburban Activity Centers uses Tyson's Corner as a case study to gain more understanding of the continuing urban pressures on the suburbs. Report also develops recommendations for enhancing both the existing developments and future developments within similar Suburban Activity Centers. This study of the "Edge City" phenomena was truly ahead of its time.

Order Code: 211 $15.00

Bridge Builders VI Award Program

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 10 pages
This brochure highlights the Bridge Builders awards presented at the St. Regis Hotel on December 3, 2002. The honorees include:

The partnership of the AIDS Alliance for Children, Youth & Families, Ortho Biotech Products, LP and Ronnie Nanton for their work to create and promote, Strength for Caring, a national program that helps the caregivers of children affected by HIV/AIDS; Mary Tyler McClenahan, founder, and T.K. Somanath, executive director, of the Better Housing Coalition in Richmond; George Starke, former Redskins football player and Councilman Chavous for creating the Excel Institute in Washington, D.C.; Mayor David Armstrong of Louisville, KY and the Downtown Development Corporation; and Melvin Primas and Richard K. Barnhart for their work to revitalize Camden, NJ.

Order Code: 930 $3.00

Bridge Builders Award Honoring Visionary Leaders in America

Partners for Livable Communities, Washington, DC: Partners, 2001. 12 pages.

This brochure summarizes and highlights the signature award of Partners, the Bridge Builders Award. It reviews the awardees from the inception in 1997 through the awards in December of 2000.

Order Code: 882 $3.00

Making the Connections:

Learning the Art of Stakeholder Engagement, a Resource Guide for the Annie Casey Foundation

Prepared by Paul Brophy, Hannah Roberts, and Penny Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, The Program for Community Problem Solving, 2001. 31 pages.

A guide prepared for the Annie Casey initiative for engaging leaders and communities to focus upon family strategies as a way of saving children.

Order Code: 215 $10.00

Consultancy Report to the Manitoba Foundation's Council

Penelope Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000 October 19. 7 Pages.

The report is on collaborative activities undertaken by community-based philanthropy that could help guide the discussion of this metropolitan council on how to work more collaboratively on common concerns facing central city Manitoba.

Order Code: 853 $3.00

Bridge Builders IV Awards, December 5, 2000

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 20 pages.

Program honoring the Hewlett Packard team, Earvin Magic Johnson and Starbucks for inner city investment and local projects in New Jersey, Washington, DC, New York City, and Detroit

Order Code: 212 $5.00

Partners' 25th Anniversary Program

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 18 pages.

This program was presided over by Glenda Hood, Chair of Partners' Board, and Bill Reilly, former head of the Environmental Protection Agency, with a keynote address by Paul Goldberger of The New Yorker. It further recognized four cities in Partners Most Livable Cities category: Cleveland, Charlotte, Rochester, and Pueblo, Colorado, and highlighted the other cities that had been selected by Partners over the last 25 years.

Order Code: 213 $5.00

Bridge Builders III Awards Program at the St. Regis Hotel

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 24 pages.

Highlights the 1999 Bridge Builders awardees. The awardees included Representatives John Lewis and Amo Houghton of the US Congress; William Jones, Sol Price, Christine Kehoe, the San Diego team responsible for Urban Village; Kathy Morgan and Ann Rubenstein Tisch, the team responsible for preparing at-risk youth for college; Erwin Mitchell and Maria Olivia Villarreal-Solano, the team responsible for The Georgia Project (Dalton, GA); Reverend Calvin Butts, III and Jim Donald, the team responsible for the Harlem New York Community Partnerships; Mayor Anthony Williams, Stephen Joel Trachtenberg, President of George Washington University, and Herbert Tillery, the team responsible for the Washington, DC Center for Excellence in Municipal Management. The keynote speaker was Raul Yzaguirre of the National Council of La Raza.

Order Code: 217 $5.00

A Collection of Best Practices for the Bank of America

Penny Cuff, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 10 pages.

Best practices were put together for Bank of America as a part of an initiative in Florida forming a state-wide consortium on public/private partnership.

Order Code: 216 $5.00

Business Leadership Groups Best Practices, Briefing Package Prepared for Mayor Jim Roub

Shelby County, TN: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 7 pages.

Best Practices reviewing Central Atlanta Progress, Richmond Renaissance, Greater Philadelphia First, Rocky Mountain World Trade Center Association, South Metro Denver Economic Group, and the Downtown Denver Partnership.

Order Code: 214 $5.00

Second Annual Bridge Builders Award Program

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 25 pages.

This program includes special recognition and tribute letter from President Clinton. The awards program was held at the Carlton Hotel in Washington, DC, and honored such distinguished Americans as President Clinton and Mayor Webb for their African trade initiative, Monsignor Linder and Arthur Ryan, the chairman of Prudential, for their work with the New Community Corporation in Newark, New Jersey, Reverend Floyd H. Flake and Bruce Kovner on their school voucher program in Jamaica Queens, and the Community Building Task Force of Charlotte, North Carolina.

Order Code: 218 $5.00

Community Empowerment Manual

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 68 pages.

Sponsored by Bank of America. How-to manual for citizens who want to help empower their community to change. Presents instructions, checklists, worksheets, and other common-sense aids to help citizens identify community assets and obstacles and resources that can help them make their community more livable.

Order Code: 219 $20.00

First Annual Bridge Builders Awards Program, October 6, 1997 at the Willard Hotel

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 18 pages.

Booklet highlights awards given to civic teams from Atlanta, Denver, Detroit, Kansas City, and Richmond of people who have worked across racial lines to create new partnerships for the betterment of their communities. This award was underwritten through the sponsorship of Anheuser Busch.

Order Code: 223 $5.00

Cooperating for Change: Steps to Strategic Action

Washington, DC: Governing Magazine, 1997. 8 pages.

Special insert in Governing Magazine reports on three-year research effort, supported by the Department of Housing and Urban Development and Governing magazine, to identify ways to achieve substantial cooperation for change in a community. Participating communities included Pittsburgh; Chattanooga; Orlando; Scottsdale, Arizona; Noblesville, Indiana; Somerset County, New Jersey; and the Alpine Diamond region of Europe – Lyon, Torino, and Geneva.

Order Code: 220 $10.00

Nature of Teams

Gretchen Klimoski, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 40 pages.

Position paper and accompanying appendices developed to guide Partners teambuilding exercise in 1997.

Order Code: 221 $10.00

Town-Gown Dynamics: Best Practices

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 16 pages.

Briefing packet prepared for American Communities Partnership presents several case studies of strategies for building on relationships between higher education institutes and communities. Covers impacts of economic development initiatives on universities and communities.

Order Code: 222 $5.00

In Pursuit of Livability

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 60 pages.

Report on a two-year Partners' program sponsored by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development and the eight participating communities. In three workshops, participants focused on strategic planning for communities, leading to a process of five steps through which a community can undertake comprehensive community planning.

Order Code: 225 $10.00

Workbook for Team Leaders and Facilitators

Gretchen Klimoski, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 177 pages.

A workbook to facilitate a series of discussions in Kansas City with the community foundation and its leadership team on how to develop a broad-based CBC initiative. A proposal was submitted to the Lila Wallace Reader's Digest Foundation and The Greater Kansas City Community Foundation received the highest funding of any community foundation in America for a CBC agenda. This manual is an excellent process guide of how to facilitate a discussion and is a key resource for the process of facilitating community consensus building.

Order Code: 224 $25.00

Role of Nonprofit Organizations in Renewing Community

National Civic Review, 1996 Winter. Vol. 85, No.4. 64 pages.

Special issue of National Civic Review focuses on the role of nonprofit organizations in renewing communities. Raul Yzaguirre was guest editor of this issue, which includes articles by Lester Salamon, Bart Harvey, Jody Kretzman, John McKnight, Robert H. McNulty, Allan Wallis, Pat Edwards, and Richard Louv.

Order Code: 639 $15.00

In Pursuit of Livability: A Strategic Planning Cooperative

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 8 pages

A background paper on the June 9-10, 1995 Chattanooga, TN workshop, prepared for a HUD funded collaborative project with eight communities and Governing magazine on undertaking the best strategies for strategic planning for American community action.

Order Code: 266 $3.50

From Lessons to Action

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 7 pages.

The concluding chapter of The State of the American Community written by Robert McNulty summing up Partners' definition of a livable community and what is needed to make communities better for all of its citizens.

Order Code: 539 $3.00

Leadership for Community Empowerment

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 14 pages.

A monograph by Robert H. McNulty, accompanied by excerpts from the state of the American Communities Report.

Order Code: 880 $3.00

New Civics: Leadership from a Different Perspective

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 6 Pages.

Partners' position paper on public/private partnerships called New Civics

Order Code: 857 $3.00

Visions and Goals: The Essentials of Leadership

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 7 pages.

Paper prepared as a chapter in Partners' 1994 "State of the American Community." The paper deals with the dynamics of public participation, visioning, strategic planning, and action.

Order Code: 855 $3.00

Leadership for Community Empowerment

Robert H. McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners, 1994. 14 pages.

A monograph by Robert H. McNulty, accompanied by excerpts from the State of the American Communities Report

Order Code: 642 $3.00

Beyond Confrontation: Development with Conservation

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1988. 35 pages.

Report to the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation on the environment, mediation and dispute resolution.

Order Code: 227 $10.00

International Lyon Symposium 1987

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1988. 20 pages.

Proceedings from 1987 symposium to examine the public-private relationships in 10 American cities and 10 European cities, plus Bogotá, Colombia, and Vancouver, Canada. Representatives from the 22 cities met in Lyon, France, to discuss issues related to the development of partnerships between the public and private sectors.

Order Code: 228 $10.00

New Designs for Urban Improvement Through Public/Private Partnership

Lyon, France: Partners for Livable Communities, 1987. Package folder and enclosures.

Folder of background materials for an international forum at which 90 professionals and city officials from 12 nations examined partnerships developed to further economic, cultural, and environmental goals, or improve urban services at this "new civics" forum.

Order Code: 229 $5.00

Polyanna, Or Is The Glass Half Full?

Robert McNulty, Philadelphia, PA: The Annals, American Academy of Social Sciences, 1986 November. 9 pages.

Presentation given to the annual meeting of the American Academy of Social Sciences in Philadelphia, November 1986 and reprinted in their annals. Reflections by McNulty upon a positive outlook of community change and use of quality of life as a strategy for localization.

Order Code: 854 $3.00

Partners Council of 1984 Recognition Awards

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1984. 2 pages.

These 1984 awards were undertaken by the Partners Council as a way of highlighting leadership in the social and economic improvements, particularly regarding the elderly, low-income residents, minorities, ethnic groups, and blue-collar workers.

Order Code: 230 $3.00

Public/Private Partnerships and Urban Revitalization in the U.S.: An Opportunity for Learning from America

Robert McNulty, Istanbul, Turkey: The Govt of Turkey: Ministry of Public Works and Settlement, 1984. 16 Pages.

Prepared for an OCECD seminar in Istanbul, Turkey on the theme of Government / non-government relationships in urban development. Sixteen (16) pages with case studies of America

Order Code: 856 $5.00

Enterprise in the Nonprofit Sector

James C. Crinunins and Mary Keil, Washington, DC: Partners and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, 1983. 144 pages.

A look at the issues, benefits, and risks involved when nonprofit organizations supplement traditional funding sources with entrepreneurial activities. Based on surveys and interviews, this report focuses on case studies of eleven enterprising organizations.

Order Code: 231 $20.00

New Civics

Leo Penne, ed. Program of the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, DC: Partners with support from the NEA, 1982.

Livability Digest, Vol. 2, No. 2. 78 pages.

This issue of Livability Digest is an excellent collection of essays focusing on public-private partnerships and the self-interest of working together. It includes guidelines for starting discussions and research on partners for civic improvement.

Order Code: 232 $10.00

Creative Option - Ideas for a Better Future

Brisbane Australia: Queensland Events Corporation, 1995.

Time: 1 hour.

Videotape of Robert H. McNulty, Partners' president, presentation to the Queensland Events Corporation in 1995. McNulty was a strategic consultant to assist the corporation in reinventing itself. As a testament to his longstanding assistance, the Queensland Events Corporation produced this video as a way to provide "notes" to those who heard him speak on tourism, the arts, sports, and economic development.

Order Code: 235 $25.00

Indiana Cities Conference on Community Initiatives

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994.

31 pages.

Interesting little booklet prepared for 1994 conference gives insights into five Indiana communities Ft. Wayne, Richmond, Muncie, South Bend and Evansville and how they view their problems and steps needed to address the problems. In association with the Center for Urban Policy and the Environment and the Coalition to Improve Management in State and Local Gov., Indianapolis, IN

Order Code: 233 $10.00

Dayton Takes Action: A Retreat of the Downtown Dayton Partnership - July 30-31, 1990

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1990.

34 pages.

Report from a project undertaken by Partners for Livable Communities in Dayton as part of Dayton's participation in the Shaping Growth in American Communities program. This retreat was lead by Partners, using its trustee, Robert Boyd, and was facilitated by Dr. Constance Azzi to help create a downtown Dayton partnership similar to Denver and other cities that could take on the redevelopment of that downtown. The Dayton Takes Action retreat facilitated by Partners set in place a strategy, a set of priorities, and an organization which was adopted and implemented in the creation of the Downtown Dayton Partnership and in the hiring of its Executive Director.

Order Code: 234 $10.00

Crossing the Line

Sue Coppa, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 70 pages.

Proceedings from the National Leadership Forum on Regional Strategies exploring the need for regional action and the steps towards regional collaboration. Contributors include Susan Wachter, Assistant Secretary to HUD; Jim Rout, Mayor, Shelby County, TN; and Robert McNulty, President, Partners for Livable Communities.

Order Code: 292 $15.00

The Potomac Index

Washington, DC: The Potomac Conference, 2000. 20 pages.

Index of values and measures of the Greater Washington region's progress toward becoming a world-class connected community.

Order Code: 899 $7.50

Crossing the Line: The New Regional Dynamics.

Bill Fulton, Governing Magazine, 2000. 8 pages.

Partners insert in Governing magazine, is not only a free-standing in eight copies, but is the official insert in the January issue of Governing magazine.

Order Code: 237 $10.00

Crossing the Line: The New Regional Dynamics

Barton Stabler, Memphis, TN: 1999 October. 1 Poster.

A poster prepared for the Memphis, TN national forum of the same name in October of 1999, designed by Barton Stabler.

Order Code: 858 $5.00

Boundless 21st Century City

Robert McNulty, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 11 pages.

Presentation on regionalism and the role of new civics making regional cooperation happen, prepared for a national conference hosted by Secretary Cuomo for the Department of Housing and Urban Development

Order Code: 859 $5.00

Achieving Win-Win: Finding Success with Smart Growth

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities and Maryland Department of Transportation, 1999. 29 pages.

A report upon two forums sponsored by Partners for Livable Communities for the State of Maryland in June and July of 1999 on how to extend the leadership of Parris Glendening's Maryland Smart Growth program. The first forum was with Governing magazine and a group of senior commentators and critics of growth management around America. The second forum was in Annapolis, MD with some 35 representatives of the planning, development, housing, environment, and civic communities around Maryland. The concluding report is written to facilitate the continued leadership and fine-tuning of Maryland's excellent Smart Growth program.

Order Code: 238 $10.00

Leadership Forum Program: Crossing the Line

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 5 pages.

Program of the National leadership forum on regional strategies held in Shelby County/Memphis, TN on October 17-19, 1999. Brochure highlights over 105 speakers at a national conference of developing regional collaboration across city, county, and state boundaries.

Order Code: 239 $5.00

Europe's Alpine Diamond Region

Michel Riviere, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 10 pages.

Article by Michel Riviere, the head of Partners Europe, describes the creation of the Alpine Diamond as one of the most dynamic regional concepts in Europe that Partners had a direct hand in helping to create 10 years ago.

Order Code: 246 $5.00

Toward a National Regional Agenda:

Building Regional Communities for the 21st Century, a Report on the Results of the First National Regional Summit

Washington, DC: National Association of Regional Councils, 1998 June. 19 pages.

This summit, of which Partners was a participant/collaborator, was the beginning of launching a regional strategy by the National Association of Regional Councils. This is an excellent summary of issues and regional agendas as it relates to council of governments cooperation on regionalism.

Order Code: 671 $7.50

Steps Toward Regional Solutions: the Rochester Forum

Bill Fulton, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1998. 26 pages.

A report on an innovative forum exploring the relationship among mayors, the media, and the voter/reader in building new regional awareness. Undertaken by Partners for Livable Communities, featuring the leadership of Mayor William Johnson of Rochester.

Order Code: 240 $10.00

Practical Models of Regional Governance

Liam O'Connor, 1998. The Regionalist, Vol. 3, Numbers 1,2. 100 pages.

Article entitled, Can the Media Affect Regional Issues? by Liam O'Connor, project officer for Partners, see pages 15 - 19. This article reviews the work undertaken by Liam as the coordinator of a national forum on the role of the media working with elected officials in creating a greater sense of regional commonality among the reader, listener, and voter.

Order Code: 241 $5.00

A Practical Guide to Creating Regional Change

Phil Walsh, Washington, DC: Partners, 1997. The Regionalist, Vol. 2, No. 2. 11 pages.

An article by Partners' senior associate describing our perspective on the need for a stewardship non-governmental body to foster and support regional change.

Order Code: 242 $5.00

Regionalism and Talk Turning to Action

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1996. 25 pages.

A report on workshop three of the strategic plan process, In Pursuit of Livability, February 9-10, 1996, Pittsburgh, PA; prepared for Partners by Governing Magazine. This is a report on one of the workshops focusing upon regionalism and action as a part of Partners' broad agenda with HUD and seven municipalities in 1995-1996.

Order Code: 244 $10.00

Foundation for the Future: Shaping Growth in American Communities Report (Las Cruces)

Robert H. McNulty and Jamie A. Greene, Washington, DC: Partners, 1993. 52 pages.

A report summarizing Partners' work on behalf of Las Cruces, New Mexico. This document details a two-year process that focused on developing strategies for attracting and retaining investment capital, stimulating conventions and tourism, increasing retail activity, improving the interaction between governmental entities, and improving the community's image.

Order Code: 612 $20.00

State of the Region Forum

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 11 pages.

Proceedings from a landmark 1991 forum on the State of the Region held in Indianapolis, at which people representing environmental, health, family, benchmarking, and civic issues developed a broader definition of the quality of life and livability that includes health, social welfare, environmental pollution and environmental health, and family resources.

Order Code: 245 $5.00

Here Today and Gone Tomorrow?

The Need For Asset Management in Las Cruces, New Mexico

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1991. 35 pages.

This report concentrates on four primary issues (leadership, status as a "temporary paradise," physical center and downtown mall, and the need for regional cooperation) affecting a Las Cruces, New Mexico., a participant in Partners' Shaping Growth in American Communities program. This report was the basis for the next step: an asset management workshop.

Order Code: 247 $10.00

Florida: Paradise Regained

Gainesville, Florida: Florida Defenders of the Environment, 1985. 20 pages.

Tabloid format proceedings of a February 1985 conference to examine the future of Florida, published as a supplement to the Gainesville Sun. This is an excellent summary of state/regional issues and a guide to organizing a forum in the context of community value and improvement.

Order Code: 249 $5.00

Excerpts from A Temporary Paradise?

A Look at the Special Landscape of the San Diego Region

Donald Appleyard and Kevin Lynch, San Diego, California, 1974. 18 pages.

This landmark essay on sustainable urban planning provides a brilliant, illustrated discussion and visionary assessment of the qualitative state of San Diego's overall environment, from natural landscape to built forms. The authors argue that the city so many hold so much affection for may be losing its best qualities. They identify these qualities, the history of the regional landscape, its meaning to people, how things stand in 1974, and propose solutions for long-term preservation of the environment. Although published in 1974, it was ahead of its time and is still relevant today.

Order Code: 688 $5.00

Chancellors Summit, James Cook University

Townsville, Australia, 2001. 10 pages

A report on a Chancellors Summit facilitated by Robert McNulty on September 13, 2001 in Townsville, Australia. The summit provided a forum for participants to discuss a town-gown strategy on issues, ideas and challenges. As host, James Cook University, illustrated a firm commitment to close ties with regional stakeholders.

Order Code: 931 $3.00

San Diego: Looking to the Future

Lynne Carrier, Washington, DC: Partners, 1998. 20 pages.

A 20-page document summarizing the various visioning, strategic plan, and planning documents created over a 20-year period in San Diego. This document was commissioned by Partners to assist the San Diego Planning Department in undertaking a greater citizen understanding of the heritage, planning, and next step of weaving the various plans together. This report was completed on May of 1998 for Partners and transmitted to the city.

Order Code: 250 $10.00

Final Report of Comprehensive Planning and Public Participation Program, Oxford, Ohio

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 20

pages. Final report on planning and public participation program in Oxford, Ohio, aimed at building a town/gown partnership. Carried out by the American Communities Partnership and Miami University, with Partners as a team member.

Order Code: 251 $10.00

Visioning and Public Participation: Myrtle Beach, South Carolina

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 20 pages.

Final report on the Myrtle Beach, SC, visioning program undertaken by the American Communities Partnership in 1997 documents not only the process but also the results of a strategic plan.

Order Code: 252 $10.00

City of Myrtle Beach Vision Program

American Communities Partnership, Columbus, Ohio: City of Myrtle Beach, Planning Department, 1996. 43 pages.

Documents the workshops and program that developed a vision for Myrtle Beach, SC, in 1995.

Order Code: 254 $15.00

Vision Process Report/Community Plan

City of Dublin, Dublin, Ohio: 1996. 50 pages.

Report on vision and strategic planning services provided by the American Communities Partnership to Dublin, Ohio, in 1995.

Order Code: 255 $15.00

Visioning, Public Participation

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. Chattanooga, TN. 23 pages.

This background paper was prepared for the HUD collaboration, In pursuit of Livability, exploring the dynamics of community planning and community change.

Order Code: 226 $5.00

Pursuit of Livability:

A Strategic Planning Cooperative -Public Participation

Washington, DC: Partners, 1995 June. 7 pages.

A guide for creating strategic community plans.

Order Code: 900 $3.50

In Pursuit of Livability: A Strategic Planning Cooperative — Stewardship Bodies

Washington, DC: Partners, 1995. 7 pages.

A guide for community development outlining the community action process.

Order Code: 901 $3.50

Vision 20/20:

A Facilities Plan for Four Arlington County Departments

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995.

67 pages.

Partners was hired by Arlington County to associate with a future strategy on how to develop a facilities plan for four of the operating departments in Arlington County, VA. This report incorporating our support advanced collaborative and co-located service facility models within Arlington County as an appropriate way of meeting the needs of its citizens. Partners particularly looked at parks, recreation and community resource delivery models, Department of Human Service delivery systems, the library system, and the fire department within Arlington County.

Order Code: 256 $15.00

Vision for the Anacostia Watershed Leadership Forum: Final Report to the US Environmental Protection Agency

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1993. 1

57 pages.

Final report on a project funded by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to develop a coordinated vision for restoring the Anacostia watershed area of Washington, DC and Prince George's County, Md. The report also includes Partners' original proposal to the EPA, handouts, agendas, transcripts and a variety of other project materials. The report presents a very comprehensive picture of how Partners identified and convened a diverse group of local and national leaders and experts to begin developing a local environmental action plan for the troubled Anacostia watershed.

Order Code: 257 $20.00

Voices & Visions: Summary Report—Grand Rapids, Michigan

Grand Rapids, MI: Voices & Visions Committee, 1993. 53 pages.

Summary report outlines the primary results of "Voices & Visions," a planning process set in motion in 1990 by the City of Grand Rapids Downtown Development Authority to discover what was needed to make Grand Rapids grow and prosper in the 21st century. Voices & Visions attracted national attention and created some local controversy, as well as deep commitment and enthusiastic support.

Order Code: 707 $10.00

Shared Vision Report to the Community

City of Albuquerque, in association with Partners, 1992. 49 pages.

Report written as part of the Shaping Growth in American Communities program includes an explanation of the vision framework, flowchart and subcommittee issue papers (economic development, the environment, social arts, urban design, growth and development).

Order Code: 258 $10.00

Report on the Shared Vision Conference: Building a Great Community

Albuquerque City/County Planning Department, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Washington, DC: Partners, 1991. 32 pages.

Report on a futures forum convened by Albuquerque city and county, in association with Partners' Shaping Growth in American Communities program. Featured speakers include: Lewis Saavedra, Mayor of Albuquerque; Federico Pena, former mayor of Denver, Colorado; John Krauss, former deputy mayor of Indianapolis, Indiana; and Rita Augustine, New Futures Initiative, Rochester, New York. This is a good summary of how to put in place a visioning process, gain community participation, and hold issues forums, which are becoming increasingly common.

Order Code: 259 $10.00

Action Plan: Urban Forum Workshop November 4, 1991/
San Diego, California

Michael Stepner, Office of the City Architect, San Diego, California, 1991. Vol.1 and Vol. 2. 100 pages.

Proceedings of a two-day workshop undertaken at the request of the San Diego city council to gain citizen input on issues of growth and change in the greater San Diego area. The report recommends short-term and intermediate-term agendas of action for maintaining the quality of life in the San Diego area. Volume 1 contains the Action Plan itself, and Volume 2 reproduces what people had to say about it. This excellent report shows what could be done with a city team involving citizen participation.

Order Code: 260 $25.00

Report to the City of Fontana:
Responses from the Focus Group Meetings

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1990. 50 pages.

Report outlines a series of focus group meetings held as part of a visioning effort undertaken in the community of Fontana, California. It includes a valuable description of the process, the core issues that were identified, and a summary of the focus group responses. Also included is a catalogue of all the focus responses.

Order Code: 261 $10.00

1989 Brea Charrette

Washington, DC: Partners with LDR Associates and the City of Brea in Southern California, 1989. 10 pages.

Report tells how to engage citizens - enthusiastically and creatively - in defining the program for selecting designers and developers for critical place-making strategies. Brea's innovative approach has been highlighted in a number of publications. Limited copies available.

Order Code: 262 $10.00

New Civics: Visioning and Local Participation

Media/Video

Chattanooga: A Community with a Vision

Washington, DC: Partners, 10 minutes.

Video describes the vision process Partners helped carry out in Chattanooga, TN, and proves that ample and exciting public participation can change the destiny of a community. Chattanooga was profiled at the 1996 International Habitat II Conference in Istanbul as an outstanding success story and it is one of the most successful revitalization/redevelopment projects in modern history.

Order Code: 263 $25.00

The Potomac Index

Washington, DC: The Potomac Conference, 1999. 40 pages.
These indices help measure the progress of innovation, entrepreneurship, inclusion, education and life-long learning, quality of life, and regional thinking and action.
Order Code: 912 $7.50

Creating Globally Competitive Communities

David Bowes, Cleveland, Ohio: Industry Week, 1996. 48 pages.
Details how communities and manufacturers can work together to create export-driven manufacturing at the core of balanced economic growth to maximize their quality of life. This publication, originally published as an insert in Industry Week, lists the 14 qualities of a globally competitive community and recommends steps to achieve such a community. A great resource for regional governments, businesses, and concerned citizens interested in increasing the competitiveness and economic strength of their community.
Order Code: 265 $15.00

Partners' Community Indicators

Phil Walsh and Sara Davies, Washington, DC: Partners, 1996. 230 pages.
More than five years' worth of research into efforts to define community indicators are compiled in these volumes. Three volumes deal independently with people, economy, and environment at the city, county, and state levels. Ten representative programs are studied in depth. A great resource for governments interested in researching the output and effectiveness of various programs.
Order Code: 264 $25.00

In Pursuit of Livability: A Strategic Planning Cooperative Background Paper on Benchmarks and Indices

Governing Magazine, 1995. 10 pages.
This paper served as the background for a two-day discussion by Partners' collaborators "In Pursuit of Livability," a HUD-funded research program, of defining strategic planning for communities.
Order Code: 266 $10.00

Community Reinvestment Scorecard: Identifying Resources, Building Partnerships and Scoring Progress

Washington, DC: Partners in cooperation with the Corporation for Enterprise Development, 1994. 35 pages.
Workbook outlines the Community Reinvestment Scorecard process as tested in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Through facilitated presentations and work sessions, this process is designed to help community leadership evaluate how well area organizations are addressing community reinvestment needs and priorities through partnership building.
Order Code: 268 $10.00

Indicators for State of the Region

Laura Green and Daniel Schwartz, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Places, 1992. 20 Pages.
A set of key indicators in categories (social well-being, environmental health, economic vitality) prepared by Laura Green and Daniel Schwartz in 1991/92. A useful guide to indicators that can be measured to be included in a livability audit, test, or score-card on a regional strategy.
Order Code: 860 $5.00

Human Investment Partnership: Achieving Benchmarks for Exceptional People

Salem, Oregon: Oregon Progress Board, 1991 November. 67 pages.
A report on human development benchmarks that takes a more in-depth look than the January 1991 overview. This report provides an excellent frame of reference for human development, youth and family, and education issues in setting priorities for state, county and community regions.
Order Code: 731 $10.00

Oregon Benchmarks: Setting Measurable Standards for Progress

Salem, Oregon: Oregon Progress Board, 1991 January. Oregon Progress Board. 62 pages.
This report focuses on the Oregon Benchmark program, perhaps the best attempt at blending the people, place, jobs, and issues for setting standards — in short, defining livability. The program set some 158 benchmarks with five-year horizons for improvement, and framed a reference for measuring quality of life for all citizens of Oregon.
Order Code: 732 $10.00

Urban Quality of Life

Washington, DC: Partners, 1981. Environmental Education Report. 18 pages.
Report defines livability issues in the urban environment, highlighting methods of using quality of life measures and Partners member resources.
Order Code: 733 $5.00

In Pursuit of Livability:

A Strategic Planning Cooperative, October 20-21, 1995

Washington, DC: Partners, 1995. 8 pages.

This resource report was prepared by Phil Walsh of Partners' staff as a background paper on defining benchmarking and indices, including best practices as a working paper for our HUD-funded consortium of eight communities involved in the "In the Pursuit of Livability" agenda.

Order Code: 267 $5.00

Lake Tahoe/Truckee Reinvestment Scorecard Workshop

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 30 pages.

The work binder for a workshop promoting long-term livability for the Lake Tahoe/Truckee region. Topics spanned a variety of issues related to reinvestment in the Lake Tahoe area by local public and private community leaders committed to the future and to maintaining the natural environment that is the area's greatest asset. The workshop was a strong step towards meeting goals of economic improvement and environmental restoration.

Order Code: 269 $10.00

Shared Heritage of the Americas (1992 Campaign) Report on the Lost Century

Lois Fishman and Jacqueline McGlade, Washington, DC: Partners in cooperation with the Corporation for Enterprise Development, 1992. 12 pages.

Interim and final reports propose story lines for a set of exhibits dealing with Spanish settlements in Eastern North America from 1521 to 1680. Exhibits concept development was funded in part through the Lyndhurst Foundation, Noble Foundation and Skaggs Foundation.

Order Code: 270 $25.00

Final Report Exhibition Planning Grant, National Endowment for the Humanities: The Lost Century

Washington, DC: Partners, 1988. 50 pages.

A final report for a Public Programs grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, awarded in 1988. This report reviews the work done in exploring the mid-16th century colonization of Labrador under the theme of Basque wailing stations in North America in the 16th century. The name currently used, Terra Nova, explored the Red Bay expeditions to highlight the use of underwater archaeology and surface archaeology to tell the story of European exploration and economic development in this well known center of Canada. This proposal was developed as part of a second solicitation for implementation funds to develop a major exhibit as part of the quincentenary celebration.

Order Code: 271 $10.00

1992 Campaign

Florence M. Maupin, Washington, DC: Partners in cooperation with the Corporation for Enterprise Development, 1988. 12 pages. Pamphlet provides an overview of the effort launched by Partners to commemorate the 1992 Columbian Quincentenary. The campaign is divided into three series of programs: "Discover the USA," "Discover the Americas," and "Rediscover the Atlantic Community," all of which build on earlier projects.

Order Code: 272 $5.00

Place Magazine Underwater Archaeology

1987. 20 pages.

Special issue of PLACE magazine on underwater archaeology. Includes articles by Denise Marois, "Underwater Archaeology Heritage Versus Plunder;" "Ships of Discovery" research, Donald H. Keith, and highlights of Partners' 1992 programs using underwater archaeology as a conservation and preservation issue for the Western Hemisphere.

Order Code: 273 $5.00

1992 Campaign

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1986.

PLACE, Vol. 6, No.6. 32 pages.

Special issue of PLACE magazine dealing with the 1992 campaign focuses on multiculturalism, hemisphere resource conservation, and Atlantic community economic development.

Order Code: 275 $5.00

Celebration of Community Spirit Awards Program

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2002. 20 pages.
Awards brochure of the ceremony at the National Press Club on June 17, 2002 honoring two distinguished governors with Partners' Investors in America Award. Governor Parris Glendening of Maryland and Jaime Lerner, Governor of the State of Parana in Brazil, were honored for their environmental and urban strategies. In addition, the William H. Whyte Award was presented to Fred Kent, founder and president of Project for Public Spaces.
Order Code: 933 $3.00

Making Friends Making a Difference: Concern for People, Communities and the Environment

Anheuser Busch Companies, Inc., St. Louis, Mo., 2002. 21 pages.
A booklet of leadership initiatives sponsored by Anheuser Busch, including a profile of Partners for Livable Communities and the national Bridge Builders Award Program.
Order Code: 934 $3.00

Towards Livable Communities: 1975 to 2000

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001. 147 pages.
The Partners story – from the first idea to the latest initiative - is told in this twenty-five year report. Year-by-year summaries of achievements, issues, and opportunities track Partners' long-term effort to define and develop community livability; and appendices identify trustees, funders, and members.
Order Code: 277 $20.00

Livability Coalition Meeting

Washington, DC: Partners, 2000 October. 18 pages.
Memorandum following the first meeting of the Livability Coalition held April 25, 2000 to discuss strategies for collaboration. The result was the focus upon the issue of Aging in Place to be collaboratively explored as a joint venture between the Coalition members and Partners, beginning in the Spring of 2001.
Order Code: 278 $7.00

Partners' Directory of Resources, 1975-2000

Danielle Hatchett and Jessica Sciebel, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 5 pages.
Complete listing of resource papers, working documents, charters, reports, publications and studies from Partners' 25 years of work on livability.
Order Code: 276 $25.00

Guide to Partners' Livability Clearinghouse

Sue Coppa, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2000. 56 Pages.
Guide and instructions on how to use the resources and data-based both online and hardcopy of Partners' National livability Clearinghouse.
Order Code: 862 $15.00

Livability Directory

Gregory Neilson, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 83 pages.
A guide to organizations that influence the quality of life in communities nationwide.
Order Code: 279 $10.00

Partners for Livable Communities Publication Catalogue

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 12 Pages.
Twelve-paged publication catalogue highlighting publications under Community Improvement, Human Development, Amenity Economics, Culture Builds Communities, and Design for Livability.
Order Code: 865 $3.00

Crossing the Line

Sue Coppa, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1999. 70 pages.
Report from the National Leadership Forum on Regional Strategies exploring the need for regional action and the steps towards regional collaboration. Contributors include Susan Wachter, Assistant Secretary to HUD; Jim Rout, Mayor, Shelby County, TN; and Robert McNulty, President, Partners for Livable Communities.
Order Code: 292 $9.00

Founders Award for Civic Leadership: A Celebration of Improving Livability Through Design

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 8 pages
On May 19, 1997 Partners honored the founders of "New Urbanism", Andres Duany and Elizabeth Plater-Zybert and Janet Marie Smith, Vice President of Turner Sports for her work on creating the "Field of Dreams", downtown arenas and stadiums that are bringing life to communities across America.
Order code: 936 $3.00

Twentieth Anniversary Program

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997. 16 pages.
Program from event honoring Partner's founders on the occasion of the organization's 20th anniversary.
Order Code: 280 $5.00

Alpine Diamond: Lyon, Geneva, Turin

Lyon, France: Partners Europe for Livable Communities, 1995. 8 pages.
Brochure describes the Alpine Diamond-a region formed by Lyon, France, Geneva, Switzerland, and Turin, Italy.
Order Code: 768 $5.00

A Celebration of Vision and Community Spirit

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1995. 12 pages.
Program for Partners gala celebration honoring human achievements and civic assets in America at Union Station.
Order Code: 281 $5.00

America's Most Livable Communities and Entrepreneurial American Leadership Program

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1994. 20 pages.
Program from Partners' 1994 awards program honoring America's most livable communities and entrepreneurial American leadership.
Order Code: 282 $5.00

Livability Clearinghouse, 1987 - 1992

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1992. 65 pages.

Report on the Livability Clearinghouse, the only service that provides information on the impact of the federal government on design and culture. Includes research summaries showing the parallel and comprehensive information resources of other federal agencies. An impressive amount of information to help organizations plan and carry out projects and programs to improve design in their communities.

Order Code: 283 $10.00

America's Oldest Buildings Engagement Calendar for 1988

Books, Ltd, Washington, DC: Partners and The National Conference of State Historic Preservation Officers, 1988. 20 pages.

This handsomely illustrated engagement calendar captures a unique collection of America's oldest buildings. History comes alive with each turn of a page. From Fort Churchill, Nevada, to Mission Conception Church in Texas, these buildings, selected from state historic registers, represent the heritage and tradition of American culture.

Order Code: 284 $3.00

Gala Celebration of American Cities

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1986. 1 page.

Commemorating Partners' tenth anniversary and inaugurating the first Investors in America Award (given to Oliver Carr for restoring the Willard Hotel), this handsome booklet documents Partners' history and services. It also features profiles of innovative cities highlighted in The Return of the Livable City and honors 11 additional cities for outstanding leadership and enterprise.

Order Code: 285 $5.00

Towards Livable Communities

Patricia Hunter, ed., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1983. 112 pages.

A history of Partners' first five and a half years, 1977 to 1983, describing the organization and development of Partners, with special sections on Nancy Hanks and the development of the Economics of Amenity Strategy, including extensive material on pilot Economics of Amenity cities and their programs.

Order Code: 286 $10.00

Founder's Award for Civic Leadership to Nancy Hanks

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. 12 pages.

Brochure provides background on Partners' Founder's Award, presented to Nancy Hanks on Dec. 7 1982. Master of Ceremonies was Brendan Gill, with individual tributes by Bill Lacey, Joan Mondale, William Reilly, and Dr. Billy Taylor.

Order Code: 287 $5.00

Livability Directory

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1982. 230 pages.

Listings of more than 400 organizations active in promoting the quality of life nationwide. Indexed by geographic region, subject area, and periodicals published. A gazetteer of the players, principally nonprofits, in the livability game.

Order Code: 288 $10.00

Focus: A Design Arts Film and Video Guide

Mary Burton, ed., Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1981. With support from the Design Arts Program of the NEA. 62 pages.

Lists more than 500 films and other materials dealing with design, architecture, engineering, urban affairs, historic preservation, transportation, and similar disciplines.

Order Code: 289 $10.00

Livability: An Issue of Environmental Comments

the Urban Land Institute, Washington, DC: the ULI, 1979 May. 20 Pages.

The Initial definition of livability through a new consortium of organizations: Partners for Livable Places, articles by Robert F. Cook, "Learning from the Community School Center" by Allen Green, "Strategies for a Lovable Environment" by Ronald Lee Fleming, and "Unused Urban Land Returned to Life" by Peter Stein of Trust for Public Land.

Order Code: 867 $5.00

Partners for a Livable Minnesota

Washington, DC: Partners, 1978. 22 pages.

This conference, co-sponsored by Spring Hill and the University of Minnesota was made possible by grants from the Arts Endowment and the Minnesota Humanities Council. The conference was organized by Partners for Livable Places to examine the possibilities of developing statewide "Partnership for Livable Communities" models.

Order Code: 290 $5.00

Partners Poster

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1 page.

Promotional poster illustrating the services offered by Partners.

Order Code: 294 $9.00

Publication Poster

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1 page.

Poster of Partners' many publications spanning 25 years of community service.

Order Code: 293 $9.00

Economics of Amenity Poster

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 1 page.

Promotional poster entitled "Economics of Amenity."

Order Code: 295 $9.00

Neighborhood Conservation/Cities Are Neighborhoods Poster

Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities.

Promotional poster for Partners' neighborhood conservation campaign.

Order Code: 296 $9.00

Creative City News, 2001-2002

Laura Durham, Washington, DC: Partners for Livable Communities, 2001-2002

Seven issues of Partners' quarterly newsletter of the Creative City Program written by Laura Durham and Beth Belk. Newsletter themes include: Community Empowerment, New Civic Players, Regional Cooperation, Amenities and the New Economy and Civic Design.

Order Code: 935 $30.00

Community Potentials

Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1997 to 1998.

A set of newsletters featuring articles and best practices on such livability themes as Culture Builds Communities, Regionalism, and New Civics: Leadership in Communities.

Order Code: 306 $25.00.

Amenities

Rebecca Kraft, ed., Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1989 to 1990.

A set of newsletters produced for the National Council of Amenity Planners.

Order Code: 305 $30.00

Partners News

Staff, Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1978 to 1997.

A collection of in-house newsletters created as a service to Partners' members and Board of Directors. Content includes: updates on events in Washington, relevant information about Partners' organizations and new members.

Order Code: 299 $25.00

Livability

Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1978 to 1998.

A complete set and index of Partners' newsletter Livability published twice a year.

Order Code: 297 $100

PLACE

Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1981-1986.

A set of PLACE magazines and an index to magazine articles.

An important resource on livability issues.

Order Code: 304 $200.00

Livability Digest

Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1981 to 1984.

Each issue of the Digest features a quality of life theme:

Profitability and Design Management (50 pages)

Issues in Urban Archaeology (71 pages)

Urban Amenities and Economic Development (50 pages)

The New Civics (54 pages)

Tourism and Communities (46 pages)

Neighborhoods in the 1980s (54 pages)

Livability Digest Index: an anthology of articles.

Order Code: 302 $10.00 per issue.

Economics of Amenity

Washington, D.C.: Partners for Livable Communities, 1980 to 1981

A complete set of the Economics of Amenity newsletter featuring news stories on using civic amenities for economic development and neighborhood revitalization

Order Form

To order items, simply photocopy this form, fill it out, and mail it to the address below. Make out your check to Partners for Livable Communities. You can also print additional order forms from Partners' web site at www.livable.com. For discounts on bulk orders and additional publication information, contact Partners 202.887.5990 or fax Partners at 202.466.4845.

Partners for Livable Communities
 1429 21st Street NW
 Washington, DC 20036

Fax: 202.466.4845
 Tel: 202.887.5990

Name _____

Organization _____

Address _____

Telephone _____

Fax _____

Email _____

Order Number	Title	Price	Quantity	Line Total
			Sub-Total:
			Shipping & Handling
			Total:

Shipping & Handling United States

1-2 books $5.00

If you are a District of Columbia resident, please add 5.75% sales tax to your order.

